Midnight Cowboy tells the story of a modern classic that by all accounts should never have become one in the first place. The film's boundary pushing subject matter: homosexuality, prostitution, sexual assault, earned it an X rating when it first appeared in cinemas in 1969. For Midnight Cowboy, Schlesinger, who had never made a film in the United States, enlisted Jerome Hellman, a producer coming off his own recent flop and smarting from a failed marriage, and Waldo Salt, a formerly blacklisted screenwriter with a tortured past. The decision to shoot on location in New York at a time when the city was approaching its gritty nadir backfired when a sanitation strike filled Manhattan with garbage fires and fears of dysentery. Much more than a history of Schlesinger's film, Shooting Midnight Cowboy is an arresting glimpse into the world from which it emerged: a troubled city that nurtured the talents and ambitions of the pioneering Polish cinematographer Adam Holender and legendary casting director Marion Dougherty, who discovered both Dustin Hoffman and Jon Voight and supported them for the roles of Ratso Rizzo and Joe Buck, leading to one of the most intensely moving joint performances ever to appear on screen. We follow Herlihy himself as he moves from the experimental confines of Black Mountain College to the theatres of Broadway, influenced by close relationships with Tennessee Williams and Anaïs Nin and yet unable to find lasting literary success. By turns madcap and serious and enriched by interviews with Hoffman, Voight and others, Shooting Midnight Cowboy: Art, Sex, Loneliness, Liberation and the Making of a Dark Classic is not only the definitive account of the film that unleashed a new wave of innovation in American cinema but also the story of a country and an industry beginning to break free from decades of cultural and sexual repression.

Illustrated with cuts of all sorts of nets, traps, engines,&c.](#) By John Worlidge, 1726      The Fellowship of Song Ginette Dunn, 2015-12-22. Originally published in 1980, Song is perhaps the strongest form of traditional culture. Its vigour and energy represent the power of the community from which it springs. This book focuses on traditional singing in two small English villages. It studies in detail an activity which goes to the core of the communal life in any village and demonstrates how song becomes the lifeblood of the traditions of rural life. In many ways traditional singing is highly subversive because its practice is an affirmation of community and a denial of the fragmentation of modern society The songs sung those remembered the singers now dead whose lives are recalled each time an old favourite is performed all connect the present with the past The primary aesthetic concern within these singing traditions is that a man should sing whatever the objective quality of his performance and a song should tell a good story The individual singer assumes a special role in performance since he becomes spokesman for a group and gives voice not only to personal but also to social concerns dynamics and emotions The Pacific
