Century Readings in the American Short Story Fred Lewis Pattee, 1927 Scripting Empire James Procter, 2024 A volume on the literary and cultural history of West Indian and West African writing at the BBC The volume covers over 40 different radio programmes which appeared within the Calling West Africa and Calling West Indies schedules between 1941 and 1965 and brings together a wide range of uncatalogued archive materials The Short Story in English Henry Seidel Canby, 1909 The Short-Short Story José Flávio Nogueira Guimarães, 2012-10-23 This book proposes a study of a new postmodern prose fiction genre the short short story Considerations of generic classifications and boundaries are followed by an historical overview and analysis of short fiction from the nineteenth to twenty first centuries especially under the influence of the Russian Anton Chekhov who is regarded as the father of the modern short story The postmodern short short story is seen as emerging from this trend a hybrid genre with characteristics of the narrative language of her prose genres such as the short story and the journalistic writing The cluster of features such as condensation lack of character development surprise endings etc which is seen as characteristic of the short short story are discussed and ten examples are summarized and analyzed including two traditional short stories for contrast It is seen that the short short story may be further broken into what is called the new sudden fiction and the even shorter and more radical flash fiction The Oxford Book of Latin American Short Stories Roberto Gonzalez Echevarria, 1999-07-15 This collection brings together 53 stories that span the history of Latin American literature and represent the most dazzling achievements in the form It covers the entire history of Latin American short fiction from the colonial period to present Reading In JoAnn McCaig, 2009-10-21 What can we learn about authorship through a reading of a writer's archive Collections of authors manuscripts and correspondence have traditionally been used in ways that further illuminate the published text JoAnn McCaig sets out to show how archival materials can also provide fascinating insights into the business of culture reveal the individuals institutions and ideologies that shape the author and her work and describe the negotiations that occur between an author and the cultural marketplace Using a feminist cultural studies approach JoAnn McCaig reads in to the archives of acclaimed Canadian short story writer Alice Munro in order to explore precisely how the terms Canadian woman short story and writer are constructed in her writing career Munro's correspondence with mentor Robert Weaver agent Virginia Barber publishers Doug Gibson and Ann Close and writer John Metcalf tell a fascinating story of how one very determined and gifted writer made her way through the pitfalls of the culture business to achieve the enviable authority she now claims McCaig's discussion of her own difficulties with obtaining copyright permission for the book raises important questions about freedom of scholarly inquiry and about the unforeseen difficulties and limitations of archival research Despite these difficulties McCaig's reading of the Munro archives succeeds in examining the business of culture the construction of the aesthetic and the impact of gender genre nationality and class on authorship While on one level telling the story of one author's career the progress of Alice Munro so to speak

the book also illustrates how cultural studies analysis suggests ways of opening up the rich but underutilized literary resource of authorial archives to all researchers

Violence Elsewhere 2 Dr Clare Bielby, Professor Mererid Puw Davies, 2024-11-12 Examines ideas of violence in German culture after 9 11 through the lens of violence elsewhere exploring works and discourses about violence in distant locations or times Following the Nazi era the Holocaust and the Second World War in postwar Germany thinking or speaking about that extreme violence seemed distinctively difficult even perhaps at times impossible Yet we can learn about understandings of violence in this period in novel ways by exploring images and constructions in German culture of faraway violence as shown in the recent volume Violence Elsewhere 1 Imagining Distant Violence in Germany 1945 2001 As of September 11 2001 violence came to appear transnationally spectacularly mobile in new ways Consequently Violence Elsewhere 2 explores ideas about violence elsewhere in German language culture since 2001 Here elsewhere can mean not only distant places it may also be violence perceived as foreign or in the past Simultaneously this work suggests that the idea of 9 11 as a watershed in thinking about violence is more complex than meets the eye Here nine essays consider classic literary forms like poetry and prose fiction from the short story to the intergenerational German family novel to Black feminist speculative fiction Contributors examine too philosophy performance and multimedia art political and other forms of public discourse and film Topics include amongst others the war on terror slow environmental violence the Armenian genocide portrayals of refugees and migrants legacies of colonial violence space

A Cognitive Approach to Ernest Hemingway's Short Fiction Gabriela Tusan,2021-04-09 How do readers make sense of Hemingway's short stories How is it possible that the camera like quality of his narrative can appeal to our senses and arouse our emotions How does it capture us With reserved narrators and protagonists engaged in laconic dialogs his texts do not seem to say much This book consciously revisits our responses to the Hemingway story a belated response to his invitation to discover what lies beneath the surface of his iceberg What this pioneering critical endeavor seeks to understand is the thinking required in reading Hemingway's short fiction It proposes a cognitively informed model of reading which questions the resources of the reader's imaginative powers The cognitive demonstrations here are designed to have potentially larger implications for the short story's general mode of knowing Drawing from both cognitively oriented poetics and narratology in equal measure this book explains what structures our interaction with literary texts
