Shots In The Mirror:

Shots in the Mirror Nicole Hahn Rafter, 2006 Criminologist Nicole Rafter analyses the source of the appeal of crime films and their role in popular culture She argues that crime films both reflect and shape our ideas about fundamental social economic and political issues Laser Induced Damage in Optical Materials, 1981 ,1983 Laser Induced Damage in Optical Materials ,1994 Laser Induced Damage in Optical Materials, 1985 ,1988 Arthouse Crime Scenes Geoff King, 2024-11-14 Arthouse Crime Scenes is the first book to address the relationship between art cinema and crime contributing to the study of both categories Case studies are provided of works by celebrated filmmakers including Lucretia Martell Kleber Mendonça Filho Bong Joon Ho Nuri Bilge Ceylan Hirokazu Koreeda Jia Zhangke Andrey Zvyagintsev and Lee Chang-dong How is crime represented in art cinema And how can this be understood in the context of global sociopolitical and film industrial trends Arthouse crime scenes draw on variable combinations of elements associated with art cinema and crime genres Crime might be shown or lurk only at the edges It might be left unresolved or unexplained Crime can be petty and small scale or raise big questions associated with the arthouse sector political issues the nature of humanity truth and knowability In this book close textual analysis is combined with focus on social and industrial contexts A recurring theme is the situation of arthouse crime films within differing manifestations of broader processes of late modern neoliberal globalization and cultural hybridity Approaches examined range from the oblique to social realism and other mixtures of crime and arthouse tendencies Movies and Methods Bill Nichols, 1976 VOLUME 2 Movies and Methods Volume II captures the developments that have given history and genre studies imaginative new models and indicates how feminist structuralist and psychoanalytic approaches to film have achieved fresh valuable insights In his thoughtful introduction Nichols provides a context for the paradoxes that confront film studies today He shows how shared methods and approaches continue to stimulate much of the best writing about film points to common problems most critics and theorists have tried to resolve and describes the internal contradictions that have restricted the usefulness of post structuralism Mini introductions place each essay in a larger context and suggest its linkages with other essays in the volume A great variety of approaches and methods characterize film writing today and the final part conveys their diversity from statistical style analysis to phenomenology and from gay criticisms to neoformalism This concluding part also shows how the rigorous use of a broad range of approaches has helped remove post structuralist criticism from its position of dominance through most of the seventies and early eighties Publisher description Laser Induced Damage In Optical Materials: 1981 Harold E. Bennett, 1983 Laser Induced Damage in Optical Materials: 1980 Harold Earl Bennett, 1980 Laser Induced Damage in Optical Materials, 1980 ,1981 Hollywood Incoherent Todd Berliner, 2010-10-01 In the 1970s Hollywood experienced a creative surge opening a new era in American cinema with films that challenged traditional modes of storytelling Inspired by European and Asian art cinema as well as Hollywood's own history of narrative ingenuity directors such as Martin Scorsese Robert Altman William Friedkin Stanley Kubrick Woody Allen and Francis Ford Coppola undermined the harmony of traditional Hollywood cinema and created some of the best movies ever to come out of the American film industry Critics have previously viewed these films as a response to the cultural and political upheavals of the 1970s but until now no one has explored how the period's inventive narrative design represents one of the great artistic accomplishments of American cinema In Hollywood Incoherent Todd Berliner offers the first thorough analysis of the narrative and stylistic innovations of seventies cinema and its influence on contemporary American filmmaking He examines not just formally eccentric films Nashville Taxi Driver A Clockwork Orange The Godfather Part II and the films of John Cassavetes but also mainstream commercial films including The Exorcist The Godfather The French Connection Willy Wonka & the Chocolate Factory Dog Day Afternoon Chinatown The Bad News Bears Patton All the President's Men Annie Hall and many others With persuasive revisionist analyses Berliner demonstrates the centrality of this period to the history of Hollywood's formal development showing how seventies films represent the key turning point between the storytelling modes of the studio era and those of modern American cinema

Laser Induced Damage in Optical material: 1985 , Chinese-German Female-Themed Art Film Culture in the Context of Globalization Ning Xu, 2022-08-01 In the context of globalization this book explores female themed art films from China and Germany in order to seek and illustrate how the cultural difference between the ways of representing women and narrating women's themes is shown in the films of both countries Laser Induced Damage in Optical Materials: 1980 , 1981 Narrative Instability Stefan Schubert, 2019-11-15 This book introduces the concept of narrative instability in order to make visible a new trend in contemporary US popular culture to analyze this trend's poetics and to scrutinize its textual politics. It identifies those texts as narratively unstable that consciously frustrate and obfuscate the process of narrative understanding and comprehension, challenging their audiences to reconstruct what happened in a text's plot, who its characters are, which of its diegetic worlds are real, or how narrative information is communicated in the first place. Despite or rather exactly because of their confusing and destabilizing tendencies, such texts have attained mainstream commercial popularity in recent years across a variety of media, most prominently in films, video games, and television series. Focusing on three clusters of instability that form around identities, realities, and textualities, the book argues that narratively unstable texts encourage their audiences to engage with the narrative constructedness of their universes; that narratively unstable texts encourage their audiences to engage with the narrative constructedness of their universes; that narrative instability embodies a new facet of popular culture that it takes place and can only be understood transmedially, and that its textual politics particularly speak to white male middle-class Americans. Mastering Squash: A book is a critical summary and exegesis of the work of Nicole Rafter, who was a leading scholar of the history of biological theories of crime causation as well as a profound theorist of the role of history within criminology. It introduces Rafter's key works and assesses her contributions to the fields of feminist criminology, cultural criminology, visual criminology, and historical criminology. It also explores her theorization of criminology's identity, scientific status, and possible futures. While many books on criminological theory explain and historically contextualize theory, they do not interrogate the production of theory or the epistemological assumptions behind it. Drawing on the work of Nicole Rafter, this book offers an accessible handbook to her extensive historical studies and to how her work demonstrated the importance of historical theory to criminological knowledge. Furthermore, the author brings Rafter's historical research to life and shows how it speaks to contemporary issues in criminology and punishment. Written in a clear and direct style, this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminological theory, intellectual history, sociology, comparative criminology, and feminist criminology.
