Brown,2017-01-01 From a distinguished historian a detailed and compelling examination of how the early Republic struggled with the idea that all men are created equal How did Americans in the generations following the Declaration of Independence translate its lofty ideals into practice In this broadly synthetic work distinguished historian Richard Brown shows that despite its founding statement that all men are created equal the early Republic struggled with every form of social inequality While people paid homage to the ideal of equal rights this ideal came up against entrenched social and political practices and beliefs Brown illustrates how the ideal was tested in struggles over race and ethnicity religious freedom gender and social class voting rights and citizenship He shows how high principles fared in criminal trials and divorce cases when minorities women and people from different social classes faced judgment This book offers a much needed exploration of the ways revolutionary political ideas penetrated popular thinking and everyday practice     The Correspondence of William Tryon and Other Selected Papers William

Tryon,1980     The Soldiers of America's First Army, 1791 Richard M. Lytle,2004 1791 marked one of the worst military defeats the United States Army ever suffered As Major General Arthur St Clair led both regular Army and militia levee soldiers to the banks of the Wabash River Native Americans rose to stop them and stop the Army they did In this fascinating study Richard Lytle gives historians genealogists and local history buffs a monumental resource for the study of St Clair s soldiers Not only a detailed narrative of this campaign this is also the most complete roster of soldiers available and a comprehensive description of their origins equipment and organization This resource assembles in one place both the narrative and hard to find reference materials that genealogists and historians need to research and better understand this seminal event in America s westward growth     Gilbert Stuart Carrie Rebora Barratt,Gilbert Stuart,Ellen Gross Miles,2004
