Thomas, Tom Bates, The official Journal of the John Clare Society published annually to reflect the interest in and approaches to the life and work of the poet John Clare The Eudaimonic Turn James O. Pawelski, D. J. Moores, 2013 In much of the critical discourse of the seventies eighties and nineties scholars employed suspicion in order to reveal a given text s complicity with various undesirable ideologies and or psychopathologies Construed as such interpretive practice was often intended to demystify texts and authors by demonstrating in them the presence of false consciousness bourgeois values patriarchy orientalism heterosexism imperialist attitudes and or various neuroses complexes and lacks While it proved to be of vital importance in literary studies suspicious hermeneutics often compelled scholars to interpret eudaimonia or well being variously conceived in pathologized terms At the end of the twentieth century however literary scholars began to see the limitations of suspicion conceived primarily as the discernment of latent realities beneath manifest illusions In the last decade often termed the post theory era there was a radical shift in focus as scholars began to recognize the inapplicability of suspicion as a critical framework for discussions of eudaimonic experiences seeking out several alternative forms of critique most of which can be called despite their differences a hermeneutics of affirmation In such alternative reading strategies scholars were able to explore configurations of eudaimonia not by dismissing them as bad politics or psychopathology but in complex ways that have resulted in a new eudaimonic turn a trans disciplinary phenomenon that has also enriched several other disciplines The Eudaimonic Turn builds on such work offering a collection of essays intended to bolster the burgeoning critical framework in the fields of English Comparative Literature and Cultural Studies by stimulating discussions of well being in the post theory moment The volume consists of several examinations of literary and theoretical configurations of the following determinants of human subjectivity and the role these play in facilitating well being values race ethics morality aesthetics class ideology culture economics language gender spirituality sexuality nature and the body Many of the authors compelling refute negativity bias and pathologized interpretations of eudaimonic experiences or conceptual models as they appear in literary texts or critical theories Some authors examine the eudaimonic outcomes of suffering marginalization hybridity oppression and or tragedy while others analyze the positive effects of positive affect Still others analyze the aesthetic response and or the reading process in inquiries into the role of language use and its impact on well being or they explore the complexities of strength resilience and other positive character traits in the face of struggle suffering and othering Birds in Eighteenth-Century Literature Brycchan Carey, Sayre Greenfield, Anne Milne, 2020-09-22 This book examines literary representations of birds from across the world in anage of expanding European colonialism It offers important new perspectives into the ways birds populate and generate cultural meaning in a variety of literary and non literary genres from 1700 1840 as well as throughout a broad range of ecosystems and bioregions It considers a wide range of authors including someof the most celebrated figures in eighteenth century literature such as John Gay Henry Fielding Laurence Sterne Anna Letitia Barbauld William Cowper MaryWollstonecraft Thomas Bewick Charlotte Smith William Wordsworth and Gilbert White ignwogwog p John Clare Society Journal ,1987
