Erickson, 2012-09-26 In metropolitan areas across the country you can hear the laments over the loss of green space to new subdivisions and strip malls But some city residents have taken unprecedented measures to protect their open land and a growing movement seeks not only to preserve these lands but to link them in green corridors Many land use and urban planning professionals along with landscape architects and environmental advocates have joined in efforts to preserve natural areas MetroGreen answers their call for a deeper exploration of the latest thinking and newest practices in this growing conservation field In ten case studies of U S and Canadian cities paired for comparative analysis Toronto and

Chicago Calgary and Denver and Vancouver and Portland among them Erickson looks closely at the motivations and objectives for connecting open spaces across metropolitan areas She documents how open space networks have been successfully created and protected while also highlighting the critical human and ecological benefits of connectivity MetroGreen's unique focus on several cities rather than a single urban area offers a perspective on the political economic cultural and environmental conditions that affect open space planning and the outcomes of its implementation General Technical Report NE, 1980 Protected Areas of the World: Nearctic and neotropical, 1991 Borders, Culture, and Globalization Victor Konrad, Melissa Kelly, 2021-05-18 Border culture emerges through the intersection and engagement of imagination affinity and identity It is evident wherever boundaries separate or sort people and their goods ideas or other belongings It is the vessel of engagement between countries and peoples assuming many forms exuding a variety of expressions changing shapes but border culture does not disappear once it is developed and it may be visualized as a thread that runs throughout the process of globalization Border culture is conveyed in imaginaries and productions that are linked to borderland identities constructed in the borderlands These identities underlie the enforcement of control and resistance to power that also comprise border cultures Canada's borders in globalization offer an opportunity to explore the interplay of borders and culture identify the fundamental currents of border culture in motion and establish an approach to understanding how border culture is placed and replaced in globalization Published in English Landscapes and Landforms of Eastern Canada Olav Slaymaker, Norm Catto, 2020-02-13 This critical book focuses on the geomorphological landscapes of eastern Canada and provides a companion volume to Landscapes and Landforms of Western Canada 2017 There are a number of unique characteristics of eastern Canada's landscapes notably its magnificent coastlines the extraordinary variety and extent of wetlands the huge Great Lakes St Lawrence basin the high incidence of meteorite craters the spectacular Niagara Falls urban karst in Montreal and Ottawa youthful glaciated karst in Ontario Newfoundland Quebec and Nova Scotia the ubiquitous permafrost terrain of Nunavut Labrador and northern Quebec and the magnificent arctic fjords and glaciers Looking at coastlines the tidal extremes of the Bay of Fundy are world renowned the structural complexity of the island of Newfoundland is less well known but produces an astounding variety of coastlines in close succession the arctic fjordlands of Baffin and Ellesmere islands and the extravagant raised beaches of Hudson Bay bear comparison with the classic fjords of Norway and the Baltic Sea raised beaches As for wetlands there are distinctive Arctic Subarctic Boreal Eastern Temperate and Atlantic wetlands and their extent is second only to those of Russia In the Hudson and James Bay regions between 75-100% of the terrestrial surface is comprised of wetlands One of North America's largest river basins the Great Lakes St Lawrence basin has its source in Minnesota straddles the USA-Canada border and debouches into Quebec as the St Lawrence River and evolves through its estuary into the Gulf of St Lawrence a journey of almost 5 000 km As far as meteorite craters are concerned 10% of the world's total are located in eastern Canada including some of the largest and most complex landforms They are preserved preferentially in the ancient Shield terrain of Quebec Finally the three million km² of permafrost controlled relief in eastern Canada serves as a reminder of the vulnerability of eastern Canada s landscapes to climate change Effects of warming are expressed through thawing of the permafrost disruption of transportation corridors and urban construction problems ever present geomorphic hazards
