terms of land economics and management      Environment Under Fire Daniel Faber,1993      International Environmental Affairs ,1989      Directory of Country Environmental Studies ,1993      Human Activities and the Tropical Rainforest Bernard K. Maloney,1998 Arising initially from a conference the papers published here have been integrated into book form to provide information on human activities and the tropical rainforest in the past and present and on the possible future of the rainforest in a unique way Other books have considered some but not all of these themes however none has stressed the continuity of change over time and its possible outcome for the people of the forest as well as for the forest itself Because of the approach taken this book should appeal across traditional disciplinary boundaries Indeed a prime aim has been to suggest that rainforest because of its complexity and the complexity of people rainforest relationships throughout time deserves study from a broad perspective This book poses more questions than answers about the rainforest and it is hoped that it will encourage readers to think about the rainforest in a wider way than hitherto This book is aimed at geographers physical and human social anthropologists archaeologists pedologists foresters and tropical botanists and will be of value to graduates of various disciplines setting out to research the rainforest      Agroforestry: Science, Policy and Practice Fergus L. Sinclair,2013-03-09 Agroforestry research is central to developing methods for the sustainable use of natural renewable resources evolving to address the needs of the coming century It is now necessary to consolidate the scientific gains now being made in process oriented research and to develop a policy framework to encourage the adoption of sustainable land use practices Agroforestry plays an important role in conserving forest resources reducing the need for deforestation Further if forest is broadly defined as tree cover agroforestry will also increase the proportion of woody biomass in farming landscapes The papers selected for inclusion in Agroforestry Science Policy and Practice establish agroforestry as an interdisciplinary science focused on the practical imperative of assisting farmers forest dwellers and landscape level planners to achieve sustainable food fuel and timber production into the 21st century      Development Or Destruction Theodore E. Downing,2019-08-27 This book is the outcome of a workshop on the conversion of tropical forest to pasture in Latin America convened in Oaxaca Mexico in 1988 It examines the dynamics underlying this complex and destructive process and enlisted multiple perspectives in order to identify alternatives      Global Cooperation Sai Felicia Krishna-Hensel,2017-03-02 The twenty first century global community is confronted with unprecedented challenges as well as unique opportunities The degree to which it can establish and institutionalize norms and mechanisms designed to promote and sustain meaningful global cooperation will determine the future course of civilization This volume brings together a broad range of scholars to highlight some of the areas of contemporary transnational cooperation and to examine the scope and levels at which cooperation can and does take place The study examines the issue of weapons of mass destruction explores the promises of biotechnology and space technology and investigates the roles of global conventions and institutions as strategies for addressing the common threats facing the international system In short the volume raises important timely issues regarding the challenges and opportunities confronting the global community which both policy makers and academicians will find informative and thought provoking in their efforts to understand the nature and complexity of the twenty first century global community      Tropical Rainforests Susan E.
