J. Fuller,2010-09-30 The book describes all the main habitat types the structure and composition of bird communities and reviews bird sites and their distribution throughout Britain Rob Fuller s book would not have been possible but for the nationwide cooperative endeavour by amateur and professional ornithologists naturalists and conservationists which led to the British Trust for Ornithology s Register of Ornithological Sites sponsored by the Nature Conservancy Council Hitherto few books have dealt primarily with bird habitats but the subject is of urgent importance now that exploitation of the environment has left few corners of Britain untouched or unthreatened Even so the book is much more than timely it also extends the reader s interest to an area of bird study that has perhaps been too little considered The text is supported by more than 100 diagrams and maps and over 50 photographs in addition there are 53 superbly evocative drawings by Donald Watson For the birdwatcher and all involved with conservation this is stimulating reading and an essential reference The Nature Conservancy Magazine ,2008

Sodhi, Paul R. Ehrlich, 2010-01-07 Conservation Biology for All provides cutting edge but basic conservation science to a global readership A series of authoritative chapters have been written by the top names in conservation biology with the principal aim of disseminating cutting edge conservation knowledge as widely as possible Important topics such as balancing conservation and human needs climate change conservation planning designing and analyzing conservation research ecosystem services endangered species management extinctions fire habitat loss and invasive species are covered Numerous textboxes describing additional relevant material or case studies are also included The global biodiversity crisis is now unstoppable what can be saved in the developing world will require an educated constituency in both the developing and developed world Habitat loss is particularly acute in developing countries which is of special concern because it tends to be these locations where the greatest species diversity and richest centres of endemism are to be found Sadly developing world conservation scientists have found it difficult to access an authoritative textbook which is particularly ironic since it is these countries where the potential benefits of knowledge application are greatest There is now an urgent need to educate the next generation of scientists in developing countries so that they are in a better position to protect their natural resources
