It opens with the author's first hand account of the Covid 19 pandemic and life in lockdown. His sense of dread and anxiety about his state of health were experiences shared with millions of others across the world. Already committed to writing a book about plagues and pandemics in popular culture Covid 19 felt like a perverse twist of fate for Richard Scheib. Media depictions of deadly contagions had to this point been speculative and often off the mark. His book takes an in depth look at what filmmakers imagined would happen and contrasts it with the reality. International in scope the book examines films in a wide variety of genres from the silent era to the present day. Black Death, Ebola, Mad Cow Disease, Bird Flu it explores fictionalized accounts of plague and pestilence such as box office hit Outbreak 1995 as well as mockumentary treatments. Whether the threats depicted have a basis in reality the biowarfare of the Cold War era for instance or are more fantastical Scheib demonstrates how the fear of contagion has provided a wealth of inspiration for the big and small screen Horror International Steven Jay Schneider, Tony Williams, 2005 A close look at horror films from around the world drawing attention to neglected social cultural and ideological aspects of the horror genre in international cinema Now and Then We Time Travel Fraser A. Sherman, 2017-01-11 More than 400 films and 150 television series have featured time travel stories of rewriting history lovers separated by centuries journeys to the past or the often dystopian future This book examines some of the roles time travel plays on screen in science fiction and fantasy Plot synopses and credits are listed for films and TV series from England Canada the UK and Japan as well as for TV and films from elsewhere in the world Tropes and plot elements are highlighted The author discusses philosophical questions about time travel such as the logic of timelines causality what's to keep time travelers from jumping back and correcting every mistake and morality if you correct a mistake are you still guilty of it

Australian National Cinema Tom O'Regan, 2005-08-10 Situates Australian cinema in its historical and cultural perspective offering detailed critiques of key films from 1970 onwards and using them to illustrate the recent theories on the cinema industries Hyperreality and Global Culture Nick Perry, 1998 This book explores a world where the boundaries between reality and representation have become blurred a world where LA Law is used to train lawyers Drawing on examples from around the globe Nick Perry presents a fascinating and entertaining analysis of both familiar objects and situations as well as the more unusual and absurd Meals served in British pubs motor cycle gangs in downtown Tokyo Australian movies are just some examples used by the author in his engaging exploration of modern sense of the unreal Hyperrealities also engages with well known theorists of contemporary culture from Baudrillard and Umberto Eco to Jameson and Sartre The Dread of Difference Barry Keith Grant, 2015-04-01 The Dread of Difference is a classic Few film studies texts have been so widely read and so influential It's rarely on the shelf at my university library so continuously does it circulate Now this new edition expands the already comprehensive coverage of gender in the horror film with new essays on recent developments such as the Hostel series and torture porn Informative and enlightening this updated classic is an essential reference for fans and students of horror movies Stephen Prince editor of The Horror Film and author of Digital Visual Effects in Cinema The Seduction of Reality An impressive array of distinguished scholars gazes deeply into the darkness and then forms a Dionysian chorus reaffirming that sexuality and the monstrous are indeed mated in many horror films Choice An extremely useful introduction to recent thinking about gender issues within this genre Film Theory In the Wake of the Plague Norman F. Cantor, 2015-03-17 The Black Death was the fourteenth century's equivalent of a nuclear war It wiped out one third of Europe's population taking millions of lives The author draws together the most recent scientific discoveries and historical research to pierce the mist and tell the story of the Black Death as a gripping intimate narrative Southern Screens: Cinema, Culture and the Global South Antonio Traverso, 2018-05-16 Southern Screens

Cinema culture and the global South adopts a transversal south south approach to the study of screen culture across national and cultural territories It examines the conditions by which screen culture participates in the generation sharing and circulation of new knowledge that is both southern and about the global South The contributors all of them residents of the world s southernmost nations examine new and traditional media that manifests an affinity with southern cultural imaginaries and territories identifiable through the sociological category of Global South Some of their chapters engage in analysis linked to specific national contexts others follow comparative approaches to screen culture across national regional and socio historical borders Sketching a new tapestry of references to other areas of southern social science and cultural theory Southern Screens traces a critical genealogy that here finds a productive place within an emerging comparative discussion of the screen cultures of the Global South This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Arts South North Cultural and Media Studies Migrant and Diasporic Film and Filmmaking in New Zealand Arezou Zalipour,2019-01-01 This book is the first ever collection on diasporic screen production in New Zealand Through contributions by a diverse range of local and international scholars it identifies the central characteristics histories practices and trajectories of screen media made by and or about migrant and diasporic peoples in New Zealand including Asians Pacific Islanders and other communities It addresses issues pertinent to representation of migrant and diasporic life and experience on screen and showcases critical dialogues with directors scriptwriters producers and other key figures whose work reflects experiences of migration diaspora and multiculturalism in contemporary New Zealand With a foreword by Hamid Naficy the key theorist of accented cinema this comprehensive collection addresses essential questions about migrant multicultural and diasporic screen media policies of representation and the new aesthetic styles and production regimes emerging from New Zealand film and TV Migrant and Diasporic Film and Filmmaking in New Zealand is a touchstone for emerging work concerned with migration diaspora and multiculturalism in New Zealand s screen production and practice
