World Prehistory and Archaeology Michael Chazan, 2017-08-22 An Integrated Picture of Prehistory as an Active Process of Discovery World Prehistory and Archaeology Pathways through Time fourth edition provides an integrated discussion of world prehistory and archaeological methods This text emphasizes the relevance of how we know and what we know about our human prehistory A cornerstone of World Prehistory and Archaeology is the discussion of prehistory as an active process of discovery Methodological issues are addressed throughout the text to engage readers Archaeological methods are introduced in the first two chapters Succeeding chapters then address the question of how we know the past to provide an integrated presentation of prehistory The fourth edition involves readers in the current state of archaeological research revealing how archaeologists work and interpret what they find Through the coverage of various new research author Michael Chazan shows how archaeology is truly a global discipline Learning Goals Upon completing this book readers will be able to Gain new perspectives and insights into who we are and how our world came into being Think about humanity from the perspective of archaeology Appreciate the importance of the archaeological record for contemporary society

The Strange Case of the Ricketty Cossack Ian Tattersall, 2015-06-09 In his new book The Strange Case of the Ricketty Cossack human paleoanthropologist Ian Tattersall argues that a long tradition of human exceptionalism in paleoanthropology has distorted the picture of human evolution Drawing partly on his own career from young scientist in awe of his elders to crotchety elder statesman Tattersall offers an idiosyncratic look at the competitive world of paleoanthropology beginning with Charles Darwin 150 years ago and continuing through the Leakey dynasty in Africa and concluding with the latest astonishing findings in the Caucasus The book's title refers to the 1856 discovery of a clearly very old skull cap in Germany's Neander Valley The possessor had a brain as large as a modern human but a heavy low braincase with a prominent brow ridge Scientists tried hard to explain away the inconvenient possibility that this was not actually our direct relative One extreme interpretation suggested that the preserved leg bones were curved by both rickets and by a life on horseback The pain of the unfortunate individual's affliction had caused him to chronically furrow his brow in agony leading to the excessive development of bone above the eye sockets The subsequent history of human evolutionary studies is full of similarly fanciful interpretations With tact and humor Tattersall concludes that we are not the perfected products of natural processes but instead the result of substantial doses of random happenstance The Science of Human Evolution John H.

Langdon, 2016-10-25 This textbook provides a collection of case studies in paleoanthropology demonstrating the method and limitations of science These cases introduce the reader to various problems and illustrate how they have been addressed historically The various topics selected represent important corrections in the field some critical breakthroughs models of good reasoning and experimental design and important ideas emerging from normal science Archaeological
