Odes Pastorals Masques:

Oaten Reeds and Trumpets Donald Maurice Rosenberg, 1981 Thorough study of the essential interdependence of the pastoral and epic genres Proceeds historically from Virgil tracing the evolution of the heroic toward the increasing accommodation of the pastoral Establishes principles for interpreting the works of major poets who set out to resolve the tensions between imagination and reality contemplation and action poetry and prophecy The Statute, a Pastoral Masque, 1777 Milton as Multilingual: Selected Essays, 1982-2004 John K. Hale, 2007-01-01 First published by Otago University Press in 2005 The book brings together seventeen essays by John Hale on topics ranging from Milton's verse paraphrase of Psalm 114 in 1624 at the age of 15 to his rearrangement of Paradise Lost along arguably Virgilian lines in 1674 the year of his death Fourteen of the essays were published previously from 1982-2003 in geographically scattered journals some of them not readily accessible Three new essays on the theological treatise De Doctrina Christiana are included and together with an essay of 2003 they apply the subject of multilingualism to that work The essays are grouped into five sections Composing Language Arts Self Understanding Paradise Lost and its Early Reception and De Doctrina Christiana and Language Issues Brief preambles or headings are added to each section and an Afterword follows each chapter This five part structure and the new preambles and Afterwords invest the volume with a rationale shaping it into a book in its own right A Biocultural Approach to Literary Theory and Interpretation Nancy Easterlin, 2012-05-31 Combining cognitive and evolutionary research with traditional humanist methods Nancy Easterlin demonstrates how a biocultural perspective in theory and criticism opens up new possibilities for literary interpretation Easterlin maintains that the practice of literary interpretation is still of central intellectual and social value Taking an open yet judicious approach she argues however that literary interpretation stands to gain dramatically from a fair minded and creative application of cognitive and evolutionary research This work does just that expounding a biocultural method that charts a middle course between overly reductive approaches to literature and traditionalists who see the sciences as a threat to the humanities Easterlin develops her biocultural method by comparing it to four major subfields within literary studies new historicism ecocriticism cognitive approaches and evolutionary approaches After a thorough review of each subfield she reconsiders them in light of relevant research in cognitive and evolutionary psychology and provides a textual analysis of literary works from the romantic era to the present including William Wordsworth's Simon Lee and the Lucy poems Mary Robinson's Old Barnard Samuel Taylor Coleridge's Dejection: An Ode D. H. Lawrence's The Fox Jean Rhys's Wide Sargasso Sea and Raymond Carver's I Could See the Smallest Things A Biocultural Approach to Literary Theory and Interpretation offers a fresh and reasoned approach to literary studies that at once preserves the central importance that interpretation plays in the humanities and embraces the exciting developments of the cognitive sciences Miscellaneous dramas:

Scottish and Irish Romanticism Murray Pittock, 2011-05-19 Scottish and Irish Romanticism is the first single author book to address the main non English Romanticisms of the British Isles Murray Pittock begins by questioning the terms of his chosen title as he searches for a definition of Romanticism and for the meaning of national literature He proposes certain determining triggers for the recognition of the presence of a national literature and also deals with two major problems which are holding back the development of a new and broader understanding of British Isles Romanticisms the survival of outdated assumptions in ostensibly more modern paradigms and a lack of understanding of the full range of dialogues and relationships across the literatures of these islands The theorists whose works chiefly inform the book are Bakhtin Fanon and Habermas although they do not define its arguments and an alertness to the ways in which other literary theories inform each other is present throughout the book Pittock examines in turn the historiography prejudices and assumptions of Romantic criticism to date and how our unexamined prejudices still stand in the way of our understanding of individual traditions and the dialogues between them He then considers Allan Ramsay s role in song collecting hybridizing high cultural genres with broadside forms creating in synthetic Scots a language really used by men and promoting a domestic public sphere Chapters 3 and 4 discuss the Scottish and Irish public spheres in the later eighteenth century together with the struggle for control over national pasts and the development of the cults of Romance the Picturesque and Sentiment Macpherson Thomson Owenson and Moore are among the writers discussed Chapter 5 explores the work of Robert Fergusson and his contemporaries in both Scotland and Ireland examining questions of literary hybridity across not only national but also linguistic borders while Chapter 6 provides a brief literary history of Burns descent into critical neglect combined with a revaluation of his poetry in the light of the general argument of the book Chapter 7 analyzes the complexities of the linguistic and cultural politics of the national tale in Ireland through the work of Maria Edgeworth while the following chapter considers of Scott in relation to the national tale Enlightenment historiography and the European nationalities question Chapter 9 looks at the importance of the Gothic in Scottish and Irish Romanticism particularly in the work of James Hogg and Charles Maturin while Chapter 10 Fratriotism explores a new concept in the manner in which Scottish and Irish literary political and military figures of the period related to Empire

Milton and the Reformation Aesthetics of the Passion Erin Henriksen, 2009-11-23 Scholarship on Milton s view of God the Father and the Son has focused on the author s theological beliefs For Milton these are equally artistic questions and to address them this study considers the precedents in Christian art that provide models for portraying the divine within a reformed context Milton s revision of the passion tradition in his short poems of 1645 and his later epic poems substitutes a living obedient and subservient Son in place of late medieval representations of the crucifixion His alternative passion unfolds through a poetic vocabulary of fragmentation omission and restoration drawing on iconoclasm as an artistic strategy This study addresses the long standing question about Milton's avoidance of the crucifixion and contributes to the broader study of his reformed poetics

The Heroines of English Pastoral Romance Sue P. Starke, 2007 The figure of the woman as hero in pastoral romance is shown to grow in importance and complexity in this important new study The genre of pastoral romance flourished dramatically in Renaissance England between 1590 and 1650 One of its key elements is that it is the daughter not the son of the gentle family who increasingly becomes the subject of the romance's attempt to define and illustrate heroism The pastoral heroine's task is paradoxical to break out of her pastoral paradise in order to ensure its reconstitution She is the princess the shepherdess the Lady or the virtuous daughter who becomes a repository of honor and virtue in a changing society where traditional chivalric definitions of honor hold decreasing purchase This groundbreaking book examines the typical challenges faced by the pastoral romance heroine as she matures within the pastoral locus amoenus the foundling dilemma the loop shaped quest the rhetorical battle the chastity threat the reconciliation of beauty to virtue and familial reunification It illustrates how the allegorical symbolic and psychological characterizations of pastoral heroines in the works of Sidney Spenser Wroth Fletcher Milton and Marvell anticipate developments in the representation of female subjectivities normally associated with the novel SUE P. STARKE is Associate Professor of English at Monmouth University New Jersey

John Hughes, His Life and His Works ... Emmy Weidenmann, 1915

A History of Gay Literature Gregory Woods, 1998-01-01 Account of male gay literature across cultures and languages and from ancient times to the present It traces writing by and about homosexual men from ancient Greece and Rome through the Middle Ages and Renaissance to the twentieth century gay literary explosion It includes writers of wide ranging literary status from high cultural icons like Virgil Dante Marlowe Shakespeare and Proust to popular novelists like Clive Barker and Dashiell Hammett and of various locations from Mishima's Tokyo and Abu Nuwas's Baghdad to David Leavitt's New York It also deals with representations of male male love by writers who were not themselves homosexual or bisexual men

Handel and Maurice Greene's Circle at the Apollo Academy Matthew Gardner, 2008-12-10 The Apollo Academy a musical club founded in 1731 by Maurice Greene and his friend Michael Christian Festing was the performance location of various oratorios odes and masques produced by composers in Greene's circle of friends colleagues and pupils Many of the works performed both in and outside the academy meetings are based on subjects such as Jephtha Deborah and the choice of Hercules which were well known in eighteenth century England and also attracted the attention of Handel This long overdue study explores these works in terms of their intellectual contexts political religious social and cultural comparing them to Handel's compositions on the same or similar subjects. Additionally detailed source information and musical analysis of the works is included as well as a discussion of the competition between Handel and his English contemporaries in order to provide a fuller picture of the diverse musical and cultural life in London during the first half of the eighteenth century. The Echoing Woods E. Kegel-Brinkgreve, 2023-08-21

For the first time since more than ninety years a survey is offered of bucolic and pastoral extending from the classical mainspring of the genre to the English 18th century. The emphasis is on the genre itself the role of imitation in constituting and maintaining its identity and on the Renaissance extension from bucolic to the wider and more diffuse phenomenon of pastoral. Therefore the seminal role of Theocritus Virgil Dante Petrarch Sannazaro Tasso and in England Spenser and Sidney is highlighted by means of an analysis of their works in this vein. The subject is of interest for classical scholars who want to become acquainted with the Renaissance revival and mutation of an ancient genre and for students of English and comparative literature who want to study the important classical sources and the development of pastoral in English literature from 1578 up to the end of the eighteenth century. Baroque composer George Frideric Handel easily ranks among the world's greatest composers. The first edition of this research guide on Handel appeared in 1988 since that time a great deal of scholarly work has been published on Handel and related areas including the discovery of a hitherto unknown work. New general resources such as the New Grove Dictionary of Opera 1992 electronic resources such as the RISM libretto catalogue online and the study of Handel's continuing popularity as evidenced by the new Handel House Museum in London and Handel practice around the world e.g. Messiah and millennium celebrations in Tonga singalong Messiahs etc are incorporated into this revised edition of the Handel guide.
