Power, Race, and Justice Theo Gavrielides, 2021-09-28 We are living in a world where power abuse has become the new norm as well as the biggest silent driver of persistent inequalities racism and human rights violations The COVID 19 socio economic consequences can only be compared with those that followed World War II As humanity is getting to grips with them this timely book challenges current thinking while creating a much needed normative and practical framework for revealing and challenging the power structures that feed our subconscious feelings of despair and defeatism Structured around the four concepts of power race justice and restorative justice the book uses empirical new data and normative analysis to reconstruct the way we prevent power abuse and harm at the inter personal inter community and international levels This book offers new lenses which allow us to view power race and justice in a modern reality where communities have been silenced but through restorative justice are gaining voice The book is enriched with case studies written by survivors practitioners and those with direct experiences of power abuse and inequality Through robust research methodologies Gavrielides s new monograph reveals new forms of slavery while creating a new philosophical framework for restorative punishment through the acknowledgement of pain and the use of catharsis for internal transformation and individual empowerment This is a powerful and timely book that generates much needed hope Through a multi disciplinary dialogue that uses philosophy and critical theory social sciences criminology law psychology and human rights the book opens new avenues for practitioners researchers and policy makers internationally John

Chrysostom on Divine Pedagogy David Rylaarsdam,2014 Contrary to the portrayals of Chrysostom as a theologically impaired moralizing sophist this book argues that his thinking is remarkably coherent when it is understood on his own terms and within his culture Chrysostom depicts God as a teacher of philosophy who adaptably guides people toward salvation Since the theme of divine adaptability influences every major area of Chrysostom s thought tracing this concept provides a thorough introduction to his theology It also explains at least in part several striking features of his homilies including his supposed inconsistencies his harsh rhetoric and apparent political naivete his intentionally abridged and exoteric theological discussions and his lack of allegiance to an Antiochene school In addition to illuminating such topics the concept of adaptability stands at one of the busiest intersections of Late Antique culture for it is an important idea found in rhetoric and discussions about the best methods of teaching philosophy Consequently adaptability is an ingredient in the classical project of paideia and Chrysostom is a Christian philosopher who seeks to transform this powerful tradition of formation He gives his Christianized paideia a theological foundation by adapting and seamlessly integrating traditional pedagogical methods into his reading and communication of Scripture David Rylaarsdam provides an in depth case study of one prominent leader s attempt to transform culture by forming a coherent theological discourse that was adapted to the level of the masses The
