historians archivists archaeologists or sociologists in order to produce knowledge and or to challenge the current established systems of knowledge production As artists they can freely draw on academic research methodologies and at the same time question or divert them for their own artistic purpose The outcome of their research findings is exhibited as an artwork and is not published or presented in an academic format This book seeks to demonstrate the emancipatory dimension of these practices which contribute to opening up our conceptions of knowledge and of art bestowing a new and promising role to the artists within the society

The Representations of Elderly People in the Scenes of Jesus' Childhood in Tuscan Paintings, 14th-16th Centuries

Welleda Muller,2016-04-26 This book is the result of a two year postdoctoral research fellowship at the Kunsthistorisches Institut Max Planck Institute in Florence Italy in collaboration with the MaxNetAging Research School in Rostock Germany Adopting an innovative approach it leads the reader through early modern Tuscan paintings to discover a new vision of intergenerational relationships By studying both the images of elderly people in the scenes of Jesus Childhood and the primary sources dealing with old age the book reveals how old age was perceived at the end of the Middle Ages and the beginning of the Renaissance in Tuscany

The Aesthetic Relation Gérard Genette,1999 One of the best known continental theorists writing today G rard Genette here explores our aesthetic relation to works of art Through an analysis of the views of thinkers ranging from David Hume and Immanuel Kant to Monroe C Beardsley Arthur Danto and Nelson Goodman Genette seeks to identify the place of the aesthetic in a theory of artistic appreciation His discussion is rich in detailed examples drawn from all of the arts The Aesthetic Relation is a companion volume to The Work of Art Immanence and Transcendence published by Cornell in 1997 Taken together the two books offer a comprehensive theory of art which addresses the work of art as at once object and action Genette maintains that our aesthetic relation to all types of objects presupposes that special attention is paid to their outward aspect rather than to their usefulness when appraising them Such appraisals while wholly subjective and temporary are expressed as objective and universal judgments about the items in question Further he asserts that our aesthetic relation to works of art in particular is based on an awareness of an aesthetic intention that defines an object as a work of art as well as on an awareness of a work s position in its historical and generic field

L'histoire de l'art et ses traductions Adriana Sotropa, Myriam Metayer, 2019 Le présent recueil explore l'influence du presque et de l'autrement de la traduction sur les développements de l'histoire de l'art du XVI^e siècle son institutionnalisation au XIX^e siècle jusqu'à ses pratiques actuelles Les rapports franco-allemands dans la continuité des transferts culturels et la question de la diffusion de la langue anglaise dans le sillage de l'histoire globale de l'art dominent l'actualité de la recherche dès lors qu'il s'agit de conjuguer histoire de l'art et traduction Pourtant ce champ d'étude reste encore très largement explorer et pourrait reconfigurer une certaine appréhension de l'histoire de l'art En effet par son caractère pluriel la traduction offre toute latitude pour analyser des contextes des situations et des acteurs que l'historiographie ne met pas toujours en évidence Comment arrivent dans une autre langue une autre culture ou un autre temps les idées et les discours originaux d'un historien de l'art Quels cartels quelles relectures quels sens nouveaux les suscitent-ils de leurs traductions Les essais réunis ici abordent ces questions en mettant en évidence l'irréductible imbrication des langues des pratiques d'écritures des moyens de diffusion et des acteurs de la traduction

Poussin and Nature Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2008 The work of the great French painter Nicolas Poussin 1594-1665 is most often associated with classically inspired settings and figures depicting solemn scenes from mythology or the Bible Yet he also created some of the most influential landscapes in Western art endowing them with a poetic quality that has been admired by artists as different as Constable Turner and Cézanne As the British critic William Hazlitt noted in 1844 This great and learned man might be said to see nature through the glass of time This beautiful catalogue presents the first in-depth examination of Poussin's landscapes Featured here are more than 40 paintings ranging from the artist's early Venetian inspired pastorals to his grandly structured and austere works designed as metaphors or allegories for the processes of nature Also included are approximately 60 drawings and essays by internationally renowned scholars who examine the painter's visual literary and philosophical influences as well as his relationships with his patrons and his place in the art historical canon Publisher description

Ernest Buckler Marta Dvořák, 2006-01-01 Margaret Atwood called Ernest Buckler one of the pathbreakers for the modern Canadian novel yet he has slipped into relative obscurity This new book by Marta Dvořák Ernest Buckler Rediscovery and Reassessment breaks new ground in Canadian literary studies by analyzing some of Buckler's works that have remained unknown or unexplored by critics and by addressing the formalistic innovations of these texts It allows a general readership to discover and an international specialized readership to reassess the wide even eclectic scope of an author best known for his first novel The Mountain and the Valley Marta Dvořák situates Buckler firmly within his cultural and intellectual environment. She argues the importance of his connections with Emerson and the American transcendental milieu and demonstrates his links with Romantics such as Schopenhauer and Shelley and modernists like Joyce, Faulkner and Mansfield as well as intellectuals from Aristotle to Aquinas. She explores his philosophical vision and his complex adventurous relationship with language. Extracts from Buckler's published and unpublished material juxtaposed with those from a wide range of writers from Henry James to Foucault offer new illuminating perspectives. The progressive structure of the book will draw readers in to discussions on shared concerns: the nostalgia for a vanished past; the relationship between family and community; the rural and the urban; or the questioning of and coming to terms with ethics and the social fabric of today's rapidly changing technological horizon in which traditional values are eroding.

The Material and the Ideal Anthony Cutler, Arietta Papaconstantinou, 2007-12-31

Reflecting the diverse interests of Jean Michel Spieser, his colleagues, students and friends contribute papers focused on topics ranging from the changing role of the apse and the layout of late antique basilicas to holy relics said to have been brought from Constantinople. Many of the articles address the nature and impact of specific media: goldsmiths' work, ivory and ceramics, while a group of highly original broader studies is devoted to such larger issues as ritual display in the tenth century, the metaphorical significance of pottery and an interrogation of the supposed influence of Byzantine icons on Western medieval art. Throughout the achievement of the authors is to move from concrete observations of particular objects to the larger meaning they held for those who commissioned and made use of them.

The World of André Le Nôtre Thierry Mariage, 1999

But as Thierry Mariage makes clear in this detailed and lucid book, the garden style that Le Nôtre brought to perfection need not be seen in opposition to the later English one; rather, he claims, they represent two points along a continuum that exists between the natural and cultural worlds.

Cultural Roads and Itineraries Jonathan Paquette, Aurélie Lacassagne, Christophe Alcantara, 2021-11-11

This book provides the first synthetic review of the literature on cultural roads and itineraries, providing a template for developing typologies and clarity on existing research. It additionally develops a unique conceptual framework for understanding the social, political, ethical and spatial dynamics behind cultural roads and itineraries. The book takes the discussion on cultural roads in two different directions. Firstly, by taking a step back from tourism studies, leisure studies and heritage studies in order to further the conversation on cultural roads with a broader set of disciplines, namely those in the humanities and social sciences. Secondly, through a series of broader theoretical reflections and considerations, the book draws its focus back to the development of the cultural road and cultural itineraries with a new conceptual apparatus that can inspire new questions for research and new ideas for practice. Throughout the text, concepts, theories, principles and practices are explored and explained through detailed case study analyses.
