Of Guns And Dogs And Men:

Of Guns and Dogs and Men Frank Jezioro, 1994 Mike Royko: The Chicago Tribune Collection 1984-1997 Mike Royko, 2014-11-04 Mike Royko The Chicago Tribune Collection 1984 1997 is an expansive new volume of the longtime Chicago news legend's work. Encompassing thousands of his columns all of which originally appeared in the Chicago Tribune, this is the first collection of Royko's work to solely cover his time at the Tribune. Covering politics, culture, sports, and more, Royko brings his trademark sarcasm and cantankerous wit to a complete compendium of his last 14 years as a newspaperman. Organized chronologically, these columns display Royko's talent for crafting fictional conversations that reveal the truth of the small-minded in our society. From cagey political points to hysterical take-downs of meatball sports fans, Royko's writing was beloved and anticipated anxiously by his fans. In plain language, he tells it like it is on subjects relevant to modern society. In addition to his columns, the book features Royko's obituary and articles written about him after his death, telling the tale of his life and success. This ultimate collection is a must-read for Royko fans, longtime Chicago Tribune readers, and Chicagoans who love the city's rich history of dedicated and insightful journalism. That Every Man Be Armed Stephen P. Halbrook, 2013-02-15 A revised and updated edition of Halbrook's 1984 book discussing the Second Amendment and the individual right to bear arms. Provided by publisher. Picturing Dogs, Seeing Ourselves Ann-Janine Morey, 2014-08-29 Dogs are as ubiquitous in American culture as white picket fences and apple pie, embracing all the meanings of wholesome domestic life: family, fidelity, comfort, protection, nurturance, and love, as well as symbolizing some of the less palatable connotations of home and family, including domination, subservience, and violence. In Picturing Dogs, Seeing Ourselves, Ann-Janine Morey presents a collection of antique photographs of dogs and their owners in order to investigate the meanings associated with the canine body. Included are reproductions of 115 postcards, cabinet cards, and cartes de visite that feature dogs in family and childhood snapshots, images of hunting, posed studio portraits, and many other settings between 1860 and 1950. These photographs offer poignant testimony to the American romance with dogs and show how the dog has become part of cultural expressions of race, class, and gender. Animal studies scholars have long argued that our representation of animals in print and in the visual arts has a profound connection to our lived cultural identity. Other books have documented the depiction of dogs in art and photography, but few have reached beyond the subject's obvious appeal. Picturing Dogs, Seeing Ourselves draws on animal visual and literary studies to present an original and richly contextualized visual history of the relationship between Americans and their dogs. Though the personal stories behind these everyday photographs may be lost to us, their cultural significance is not. De Niro's Game Rawi Hage, 2008-06-16 There is but one truly serious philosophical problem, and that is suicide. In Rawi Hage's unforgettable novel, winner of the 2008 IMPAC Prize, this famous quote by Camus becomes a touchstone for two young men caught in Lebanon's civil war. Bassam and George are childhood best friends who have grown to adulthood in war-torn Beirut. Now they must choose their futures: to stay in the city and consolidate power through crime or to go into exile abroad alienated from the only existence they have known Bassam chooses one path obsessed with leaving Beirut he embarks on a series of petty crimes to finance his departure Meanwhile George builds his power in the underworld of the city and embraces a life of military service crime for profit killing and drugs Told in the voice of Bassam De Niro's Gameis a beautiful explosive portrait of a contemporary young man shaped by a lifelong experience of war Ravi Hage's brilliant style mimics a world gone mad so smooth and apparently sane that its razor sharp edges surprise and cut deeply A powerful meditation on life and death in a war zone and what comes after Outing, 1903 Outing and the Wheelman, 1904 Field & Stream, 1977-06 FIELD STREAM America's largest outdoor sports magazine celebrates the outdoor experience with great stories compelling photography and sound advice while honoring the traditions hunters and fishermen have passed down for generations Central Africans and Cultural Transformations in the American Diaspora Linda M.
