Of Mozart, Parrots and Cherry Blossoms in the Wind Bruce Adolphe, 1999 The exhilarating mix of humour philosophy fact and whimsy that marks these essays derives from more than 200 lectures Bruce Adolphe has given over more of the past decade at the Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Centre and at music festivals around the States The composer of four operas as well as chamber music concertos and orchestral works Adolphe has written for Itzhak Perlman David Shifrin the Beaux Arts Trio the Orpheus Chamber Orchestra and many other renowned musicians His essays however divergent their apparent subjects all serve a common purpose to deepen our understanding of how music comes to be and how it may be enjoyed The American Piano Concerto Compendium William Phemister, 2018-06-20 The second edition of William

Phemister's The American Piano Concerto Compendium reveals to professional and amateurs pianists alike a vast collection of available compositions by American composers Analysis expands outside mainstream concerto styles to include those considered experimental or popular derivatives The range of music flows from Pulitzer Prize winners like Samuel Barber Gail Kubik and John LaMontaine to lesser known multi ethnic composers such as Tania Le n and Samuel Zyman to old standards like Edward MacDowell and the first piano concerto written by an American born composer Otis B Boise 1875 to the cutting edge avant garde of Milton Babbitt and Elliott Carter just to name a few These all contribute to the varied narrative that animates American piano music With forty percent more works described documented and reviewed than were listed in the 1985 first edition from the College Music Society this second edition is a valuable resource not only for pianists and conductors but also for orchestras teachers students music historians and critics collectors and concert attendees The

Mr. Holland on the Rebound Trey Reely, 2010 The Origins of Creativity Bruce Adolphe, 2001 The exploration of creativity used to be confined to the domains of psychology and philosophy This has changed greatly in recent years with the dramatic advances of modern neuroscience and our greatly improved understanding of higher brain function This book examines the biology of the brain and creativity not only through psychology and philosophy but also with the input of art science and neurobiology for the first time bringing the discoveries of modern neurobiology to bear on the subject of creativity It addresses four themes central to our understanding of creativity the creative experience in art and science the mind s perception of patterns the biological basis of imagination and the influence of the environment of creative powers In this fascinating and inter disciplinary collection of essays painters and composers explore the creative processes in their arts a mathematician points out that computer generated fractal images are often perceived as art and evoke emotional reactions and modern neuroscience begins to explain the creator s experience and sees creative decision making as a function that is inseparable from emotion Not only are these essays fascinating within themselves but they interact and collide in such a way that suddenly mathematics is bringing forth art and science becomes an argument for unexplainable emotions Many questions and theories are explored in these pages What is the Eureka experience how do the brain and mind make creative decisions and what is the role of emotion In the end The Origins of Creativity will explore with you the possibility of creativity being a genetically encoded product of the evolution of the brain favored by natural selection but influenced by the environment of each individual as it unifies traditional views on creativity with today s new sciences of the mind
