Heavy Women

Irrefutable, beautifully smug
As Venus, pedestaled on a half-shell
Shawled in blond hair and the salt
Scrim of a sea breeze, the women
Settle in their bellied dresses.
Over each weighty stomach a face
Floats calm as a moon or a cloud.

Smiling to themselves, they meditate
Devoutly as the Dutch bulb
Forming its twenty petals.
The dark still nurses its secret.
On the green hill, under the thorn trees,
They listen for the millennium,
The knock of the small, new heart.

Pink-buttocked infants attend them.
Looping wool, doing nothing in particular,
They step among the archetypes.
Dusk hoods them in Mary-blue
While far off, the axle of winter
Grinds round, bearing down with the straw,
The star, the wise gray men.

Collected Poems of Bronwen Wallace Bronwen Wallace, 2020-05-01 Bronwen Wallace was recognized in the last decade of her short life as a major Canadian poet and a significant figure in the growth of the feminist movement The author of five collections of poetry and a book of short fiction most of which have been out of print for decades Wallace worked in a range of poetic styles in a voice as intimate as a conversation between friends Offering the full breadth of this celebrated poet s output in a single long awaited volume Collected Poems of Bronwen Wallace brings the text of all five published collections back into print alongside unpublished poems from earlier in her career allowing readers to see the stylistic evolution of her poetry from its first incarnation to her last written work In an engaging and often moving tone the poems draw the reader in even as they document the poet honing her craft during the turbulent 1970s and reveal her fascination with the politics of the personal the everyday concerns of ordinary people and inequality and violence Carolyn Smart s introduction and notes supplement the collection along with a bibliography that catalogues the scholarly and literary responses to Wallace s work for the first time An exhilarating reading experience Collected Poems of Bronwen Wallace

Form and Modernity in Women's Poetry, 1895-1922 Sarah Parker,2024-02-29 While W B Yeats s influential account of the Tragic Generation claims that most fin de si cle poets died or at least stopped writing shortly after 1900 this book explodes this narrative by attending to the twentieth century poetry produced by women poets Alice Meynell Michael Field Katharine Bradley and Edith Cooper Dollie Radford and Katharine Tynan While primarily associated with the late nineteenth century these poets were active in the twentieth century but their later writing is overlooked in modernist dominated studies partly due to this poetry s adherence to traditional form This book reveals that these poets far from being irrelevant to modernity used these established forms to address contemporary concerns including suffrage sexuality motherhood and the First World War The chapters focus on Meynell s manipulations of metre to contemplate temporality and literary tradition Michael Field s use of blank verse to portray the conflicted modern woman Radford s adaptation of the aesthetic song like lyric to tackle the experience of the city urban crime and suffrage and Tynan s employment of the ballad to soothe bereaved mothers during the First World War This book ultimately shows that traditional forms played a vital role in shaping mature women poets responses to modernity illuminating debates about form tradition and gender in twentieth century poetry
