Of Bridles and Burnings E. J. Burford, Sandra Shulman, 1992      Holy Estates Sid Ray, 2004-11 This volume examines analogies between marital and political ideology in early modern culture analyzing sixteenth and seventeenth century marriage tracts and the appropriation of their rhetoric by Shakespeare Mary Wroth Francis Beaumont and John Fletcher and John Webster Just as the marriage tracts draw explicitly on political metaphors to prescribe marital decorum early modern political treatises adopt the language of the marriage tracts using their construction of the family unit as a model for exercising power on important often subversive meanings when they are redeployed in prose fiction and drama The woman s place within these marital and political discourses and how she fares within early modern domestic and political hierarchies are the book s primary concerns Included here are detailed discussions of Wroth s Urania Shakespeare s Taming of the Shrew Titus Andronicus Othello and The Tempest Beaumont and Fletcher s The Maid s Tragedy and Webster s The Duchess of Malfi Sid Ray is Associate Professor of English at Pace University in New York      Of Bridles and Burnings E. J. Burford, Sandra Shulman, 1992-01-01      Prostitution, Women and Misuse of the Law Helen J. Self, 2004-08-02 This is an examination from a feminist historian s standpoint of the background to the present system of regulating prostitution in Britain which is generally admitted to be not only unjust and discriminatory but ineffective even in achieving its stated aims Concentrating on the 1950s and especially on the Wolfenden Report and the 1959 Street Offences Act it is a thorough exposure of the sexual double standard and general misogynist assumptions underlying legislation relating to prostitution In addition to the detailed analysis of the 1950s legislation and the background to it there is an exposition of the subsequent workings of the Act and of attempts to amend or repeal it      History of Criminal Justice Mark Jones, Peter Johnstone, 2011-07-22 Covering criminal justice history on a cross national basis this book surveys criminal justice in Western civilization and American life chronologically from ancient times to the present It is an introduction to the historical problems of crime law enforcement and penology set against the background of major historical events and movements Integrating criminal justice history into the scope of European British French and American history this text provides the opportunity for comparisons of crime and punishment over boundaries of national histories The text now concludes with a chapter that addresses terrorism and homeland security      Narratives of Women and Murder in England, 1680-1760 Kirsten T. Saxton, 2009 Arguing for the centrality of the female criminal subject to the rise of the British novel Kirsten Saxton compares representations of homicidal women in legal documents with those in the early novels of Behn Manley Defoe and Fielding She demonstrates that legal narratives informed the novel s evolution and fictional texts shaped the development of legal narratives and suggests that Augustan configurations of the murderess continue to influence our legal and social conceptions of femininity      The Works of Jack London: Burning Daylight Jack London, 1917      Burning Daylight Jack London, 1910      The Confident Woman Marjorie Hansen Shaevitz, 2012-01-04 How Confident Are You Marjorie Hansen Shaevitz has as class and civil war have implications not merely for the historiography of crime but for the social history of early modern England as a whole This study therefore goes beyond conventional studies and challenges hitherto accepted views of social interaction in the period

Power, Gender and Christian Mysticism Grace Jantzen,1995-11-16 In the western Christian tradition the mystic was seen as having direct access to God and therefore great authority In this study Dr Jantzen discusses how men of power defined and controlled who should count as a mystic and thus who would have power women were pointedly excluded This makes her book of special interest to those in gender studies and medieval history Its main argument however is philosophical Because the mystical has gone through many social constructions the modern philosophical assumption that mysticism is essentially about intense subjective experiences is misguided This view is historically inaccurate and perpetuates the same gendered struggle for authority which characterises the history of western christendom This book is the first on the subject to take issues of gender seriously and to use these as a point of entry for a deconstructive approach to Christian mysticism
