Van Schaick, Jennie Mohr, Louise Moore, Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon, Mary H. Brilla, Sylva Sternoff Beyer, Winifred Frost Kerschbaum, United States. Women's Bureau, 1951      The Lemonade Prescription Lou Tyner, 2022-08-01

Once upon a time a childhood didn't include cell phones, texting, email, and video games; no instant music, flat irons, silky hair products, and malls for every good thing needed or not. After the big money crash in 1929 followed by many years of the Great Depression, our community stuck together. The Depression babies arrived all through the thirties, and when World War II arrived, jobs were greatly appreciated but young men went off to fight and so many to die. With the men away at war, working women joined together to raise the children. An old African saying it takes a village to raise a child was recently brought to the fore. This is something I found to be very true during my early years. In fact, it was how our community operated. That's what I found growing up in a small rural southern community centered around church and school. Everybody looked out for each other and relied on each other. Sometimes being close-knit spilled over into a lack of privacy; usually it involved gossip but mostly tender loving care. These are the depression years and the war years my parents' generation endured.

Reclaiming Adat Gaik Cheng Khoo, 2011-11-01

In the early 1990s, the animist and Hindu traces in adat or Malay custom became contentious for resurgent Islam in Malaysia. Reclaiming Adat focuses on the filmmakers, intellectuals, and writers who reclaimed adat to counter the homogenizing aspects of both Islamic discourse and globalization in this period. They practised their project of recuperation with an emphasis on sexuality and a return to archaic forms such as magic and traditional healing. Using close textual readings of literature and film, Khoo Gaik Cheng reveals the tensions between gender, modernity, and nation. Khoo weaves a wealth of cultural theory into a rare analysis of Malay cinema and the work of new Malaysian anglophone writers. Reclaiming Adat makes an essential contribution to our knowledge of the complexities embedded in modern Malaysian culture, politics, and identity. The book will be a useful source for students interested in postcolonial film and literature, Asian culture and gender studies, as well as the general reader keen to learn about contemporary Malaysia.

The Other Empire Ronald D. Klein, 2008

In this survey of literary images of Japan, Ronald Klein has identified more than 160 works with Japanese characters, providing both comprehensive overviews as well as individual monographs on specific writers. This book creates a subgenre of thematic work positing an alternative postcolonial relationship.

Asian Masculinities Kam Louie, Morris Low, 2005-07-25

This book shows how East Asian masculinities are being formed and transformed as Asia is increasingly globalized. The gender roles performed by Chinese and Japanese men are examined not just as they are lived in Asia but also in the West. The essays collected here enhance current understandings of East Asian identities and cultures, as well as Western conceptions of gender and sexuality. While basic issues such as masculine ideals in China and Japan are examined, the book also addresses issues including homosexuality.
