A HANDBOOK FOR COMPULSIVE HACKERS

"Oh, no-no!" The "Baker's wall" is often heard on tee, but is more commonly known from deep bunkers. It is definitely not recommended for the offensive golfer, as it tells everyone you have missed another shot in the trap, a shot that might well go unnoted if the bunker is deep and your opponent some distance away. Keep quiet and you may get away with calling such shots practice swings, although after two or three it does build suspicion.

"Never up, never in." A totally useless comment spoken when a putt falls short; it is only included here as one more thing that can be spoken from the subconscious without thinking and without excepting from your Hypnotic Brain Lock, yet giving the impression that you are a composed human being.

"You're away." Said to be the only words ever spoken by Ben Hogan during a match, this simple direct statement of fact can be repeated by the truly offensive golfer, even on unexpected waves, keeping them on an already narrow path.
