The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,2000 Pacific Ocean Engineers Erwin N. Thompson,1985 40th AIAA Aerospace Sciences Meeting & Exhibit ,2002 No Sense in Dwelling on the Past? Ryan Shaughnessy,2011 This book examines the German air force GAF monograph project also known as the Karlsruhe Project through which the US Air Force employed former Luftwaffe generals to record the history of World War II from the German perspective Historians have explored parallel programs in the US Army and Navy but the Karlsruhe Project has received little attention However the Air Force monographs have proven useful to historians because of their high quality This book attributes the Karlsruhe monographs strength as works of history primarily to the Air Force s limited interest in them which insulated the writers from outside pressure to produce studies of immediate utility to the military Whereas policy needs drove the Army and Navy programs and often caused them to search for convenient tactical lessons in German history the GAF monograph project was effectively autonomous This was a mixed blessing Chronically undermanned and inadequately funded the project ended with most studies still unfinished The Air Force ignored the monographs and failed to benefit from the experience of the Luftwaffe This book illustrates the inherent tensions in writing official military history and utilizes the Karlsruhe Project as a lens to examine problems plaguing the Air Force during the early Cold War Still cooperative historical work proved to be an inexpensive and unexpected way of cementing the critical West German American military alliance and both air forces came to value this aspect of the project more than the historical studies it produced P xviii Army History ,1996 Choice ,2000 Manzanar National Historic Site, California Harlan D. Unrau,1996 US Infantryman in World War II (1) Robert S Rush,2012-07-20 This title deals with the experiences of the American soldiers who fought the Japanese across the Pacific islands and the specific nature of this combat environment It follows a hypothetical soldier Michael through his enlistment into and training with the 165th Infantry Regiment New York National Guard It takes him through the 1941 maneuvers the 27th Infantry Division participated in the transfer to Oahu and into the reality of daily life and combat in the Pacific theater from 1942 to 1945 including Makin Saipan and Okinawa It also looks at the PTO administrative procedures for replacements and medical and psychiatric care of the ordinary soldier Whilst the focus is on one individual the experiences of the many are examined and woven into an intricate and meticulous narrative American Book Publishing Record ,2000
