The Internet Newsroom, 1999 Your guide to the world of electronic factgathering Six Times As Sweet Jan Hubbard, 1998-07-25 A fast paced action packed up to the minute completely thorough chronicle of the 1997-98 NBA Championship team the Chicago Bulls The Official 1998 NBA Finals Retrospective Six Times As Sweet traces the team's entire season from the regular season to the playoffs to the NBA Finals and into the winning locker room after clinching the Championship With vivid full color photography throughout including many behind the scene shots of Michael Jordan and all the rest of his teammates this book is the ultimate basketball fan keepsake Listen, We Need to Talk Brian F. Harrison, Melissa R. Michelson, 2017-01-20 American public opinion tends to be sticky Although the news cycle might temporarily affect the public's mood on contentious issues like abortion the death penalty or gun control public opinion toward these issues has remained remarkably constant over decades There are notable exceptions however particularly with regard to divisive issues that highlight identity politics For example over the past three decades public support for same sex marriage has risen from scarcely more than a tenth to a majority of the population Why have people's minds changed so dramatically on this issue and why so quickly It wasn't just that older more conservative people were dying and being replaced in the population by younger more progressive people people were changing their minds Was this due to the influence of elite leaders like President Obama Or advocacy campaigns by organizations pushing for greater recognition of the equal rights of Lesbian Gay Bisexual and Transgender LGBT people Listen We Need to Talk tests a new theory what Brian Harrison and Melissa Michelson call The Theory of Dissonant Identity Priming about how to change people's attitudes on controversial topics Harrison and Michelson conducted randomized experiments all over the United States many in partnership with equality organizations including Equality Illinois Georgia Equality Lambda Legal Equality Maryland and Louisiana's Capital City Alliance They found that people are often willing to change their attitudes about LGBT rights when they find out that others with whom they share an identity for example as sports fans or members of a religious group are also supporters of those rights particularly when told about support from a leader of the group and particularly if they find the information somewhat surprising Fans of the Green Bay Packers football team were influenced by hearing that a Packers Hall of Famer is a supporter of LGBT rights African Americans were influenced by hearing that the Black president of the United States is a supporter Religious individuals were influenced by hearing that a religious leader is a supporter And strong partisans were influenced by hearing that a leader of their party is a supporter Through a series of engaging experiments and compelling evidence Listen We Need to Talk provides a blueprint for thinking about how to bring disparate groups together over contentious political issues Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1998-04 The Publishers Weekly,1999 Who's who in the West ,2001
