Intelligence and Government in Britain and the United States Philip H.J. Davies,2012-04-06 Bringing a dose of reality to the stuff of literary thrillers this masterful study is the first closely detailed comparative analysis of the evolution of the modern British and American intelligence communities Intelligence and Government in Britain and the United States A Comparative Perspective is an intensive comparative exploration of the role of organizational and political culture in the development of the intelligence communities of America and her long time ally Each national system is examined as a detailed case study set in a common conceptual and theoretical framework The first volume lays out that framework and examines the U S intelligence community The second volume offers the U K case study as well as overall conclusions Particular attention is paid here to the fundamentally different concepts of what intelligence entails in the United States and United Kingdom as well as to the nations different approaches to managing change and information intensive activities The impact of these differences is demonstrated by examining the evolution of the two intelligence communities from their inceptions prior to World War II through their development during the Cold War and the transformations that have taken place since especially in the wake of the September 2001 terrorist attacks and 2003 invasion of Iraq Secularism, Decolonisation, and the Cold War in South and Southeast Asia Clemens Six, 2017-07-20 The intensifying conflicts between religious communities in contemporary South and Southeast Asia signify the importance of gaining a clearer understanding of how societies have historically organised and mastered their religious diversity Based on extensive archival research in Asia Europe and the United States this book suggests a new approach to interpreting and explaining secularism not as a Western concept but as a distinct form of practice in 20th century global history In six case studies on the contemporary history of India Indonesia Malaysia and Singapore it analyses secularism as a project to create a high degree of distance between the state and religion during the era of decolonisation and the emerging Cold War between 1945 and 1970 To demonstrate the interplay between local and transnational dynamics the case studies look at patterns of urban planning the struggle against religious nationalism conflicts around religious education and anti communism as a dispute over secularism and social reform The book emphasises in particular the role of non state actors as key supporters of secular statehood a role that has thus far not received sufficient attention A novel approach to studying secularism in Asia the book discusses the different ways that global transformations such as decolonisation and the Cold War interacted with local relations to reshape and relocate religion in society It will be of interest to scholars of Religious Studies International Relations and Politics Studies of Empire Cold War Studies Subaltern Studies Modern Asian History and South and Southeast Asian Studies
