The Converso's Return Dalia Kandiyoti, 2020-08-04 Five centuries after the forced conversion of Spanish and Portuguese Jews to Catholicism stories of these conversos descendants uncovering long hidden Jewish roots have come to light and taken hold of the literary and popular imagination This seemingly remote history has inspired a wave of contemporary writing involving hidden artifacts familial whispers and secrets and clandestine Jewish ritual practices pointing to a past that had been presumed dead and buried The Conversos Return explores the cultural politics and literary impact of this reawakened interest in converso and crypto Jewish history ancestry and identity and asks what this fascination with lost and found heritage can tell us about how we relate to and make use of the past Dalia Kandiyoti offers nuanced interpretations of contemporary fictional and autobiographical texts about crypto Jews in Cuba Mexico New Mexico Spain France the Ottoman Empire and Turkey These works not only imagine what might be missing from the historical archive but also suggest an alternative historical consciousness that underscores uncommon convergences of and solidarities within Sephardi Christian Muslim converso and Sabbatean histories Steeped in diaspora Sephardi transamerican Iberian and world literature studies The Conversos Return illuminates how the converso narrative can enrich our understanding of history genealogy and collective memory

Negotiating Borderlines in Four Contemporary Migrant Writers from the Middle East Petya Tsoneva Ivanova, 2018-10-23 The book considers the persistent tendency to represent the Middle East as a region enclosed in less permeable boundaries This perspective of enclosure haunts Middle Eastern Studies and is part of ongoing cultural debates on cross border circulation currently challenged by spectacular outbursts of violence along resurfacing lines of division This critical study analyses selected works of four contemporary Anglophone migrant writers from the Middle East namely Rabih Alameddine Diana Abu Jaber Laila Halaby and Elif Shafak to demonstrate that in spite of the forceful lines that remain after religious ethnic and political disputes this region does not exist as a rigidly delimited place in the writing of migrants who reclaim it back from beyond its boundaries Rather than being a permanent location it is constructed as a place that flows into other places and is constantly reshaped by a variety of personal stories migrant trajectories departures and returns

Muslimness in Contemporary Literary Imaginations Neriman Kuyucu, 2025-10-14 Focusing on imagination and self representation as a key sociocultural force this book examines the diverse ways Muslim writers articulate complex and multifaceted conceptualizations of Muslimness at the critical juncture of culture faith gender sexuality and diasporic experience It highlights how contemporary fiction offers valuable insights into discussions on Muslims This book situates Muslim writing in relation to Muslimness as an inherently contradictory field of meaning and the Muslim diaspora which is re conceptualized as Muslim diaspora space Muslim diaspora space can be used as an analytical framework that can highlight an emerging literary site that Muslim writers create within the current politics of representation The texts selected for close analysis in this book demonstrate that diasporic experience is not limited to displacement and its challenges the process of diasporization also signifies the creative potential arising from navigating the tensions between mobility and rootedness sameness and difference and loss and renewal

Being Young and Muslim Asef Bayat, Linda Herrera, 2010 This volume explores the ways in which the young both in Muslim majority societies and Muslim communities in the West negotiate their Muslim identity in relation to their youthful desires their individuality the search for autonomy and security for the future The cultural behavior of Muslim youths the authors argue must be understood as located in the political realm and representing a new arena of contestation for power The essays in this volume look at the strategies Muslim youths deploy to realize their interests and aspirations including music and fashion party politics collective violence gang activities religious radicalism and other forms of expression Postcolonial Gateways and Walls Daria Tunca, Janet Wilson, 2016-11-07 Metaphors are ubiquitously used in the humanities to bring the tangibility of the concrete world to the elaboration of abstract thought Drawing on this cognitive function of metaphors this collection of essays focuses on the evocative figures of the gateway and the wall to reflect on the state of postcolonial studies Some chapters on such topics as maze making in Canada and the Berlin Wall in the writings of New Zealand authors foreground the modes of articulation between literal borders and emotional disconnections while others examine how artefacts ranging from personal letters to clothes may be conceptualized as metaphorical gateways and walls that lead or conversely regulate access to specific forms of cultural expression and knowledge Following this line of metaphorical thought postcolonial studies itself may be said to function as either barrier or pathway to further modes of enquiry This much is suggested by two complementary sets of contributions on the one hand those that contend that the canonical centre periphery paradigm and the related writing back model have prevented scholars from recognizing the depth and magnitude of cross cultural influences between civilizations on the other those that argue that the scope of traditional postcolonial models may be fruitfully widened to include territories such as post imperial Turkey a geographical and cultural gateway between East and West that features in several of the essays included in this collection Ultimately all of the contributions testify to the fact that postcolonial studies is a field whose borders must be constantly redrawn and whose paradigms need to be continually reshaped and rebuilt to remain relevant in the contemporary world in other words the collection's varied approaches suggest that the discipline itself is permanently under construction Readers are therefore invited to perform a critical inspection of the postcolonial construction site CONTRIBUTORS Vera Alexander Elisabeth Bekers Devon Campbell Hall Simran Chadha Carmen Concilio Margaret Daymond Marta Dvořák Claudia Dupp Elena Furlanetto Gareth Griffiths John C Hawley Sissy Helff Marie Herbillon Deepika Marya Bronwyn Mills Padmini Mongia Golnar Nabizadeh Gerhard Stilz New Horizons of Muslim Diaspora in Europe and North America Moha Ennaji, 2016-05-30 This book provides insights into some of the social topics related to the homogenization and stereotyping of Muslims It explores the experiences of Muslims in Western societies with a particular focus not only on gender home and belonging multiculturalism and ethnicity Historical Dictionary of Turkey Metin Heper, Duygu Öztürk, Nur Bilge Criss, 2018-05-23 The fourth edition of Historical Dictionary of Turkey covers Ottoman Empire and the Republic of Turkey through a time span of more than six centuries It presents the basic characteristics of the two periods and traces the developments from an empire to a state nation from tradition to modernity from a sultanate to a republic and from modest country to a country that is already a regional power and further aspiring becoming a country to be reckoned with This is done through a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 900 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Turkey
