The Different Faces of Politics in Literature and Music Mario Vassallo, Andre P. DeBattista, 2023-12-06 This book highlights the links between politics and governance and the arts The essays in the volume show how literature and music have challenged those in power risking political censure In addition they also try to delineate how patronage has been used for propaganda or to stir up national fervour They focus on the tension and symbiosis between the politician and the artist foregrounding how they have always tried to influence challenge and in some cases undermine one another This volume will serve as an indispensable source for researchers and academics in political science the humanities and performing arts Studies in Maltese Popular Music Philip Ciantar, 2021-04-21 This book examines the diverse facets of popular music in Malta paying special attention to g ana Malta s folk song the wind band tradition and modern popular music Ciantar provides intriguing discussions and examples of how popular music on this small Mediterranean island country interacts with other aspects of the island s life and culture such as language religion history customs and politics Through a series of ethnographic vignettes the book explores the music as it takes place in bars at festivals and during village celebrations and considers how it is talked about in the local press at group gatherings and on social media The ethnography adopted here is that of a native musician and ethnomusicologist and therefore marries the author s memories with ongoing observations and their evaluation Crafting Contemporary Pagan Identities in a Catholic Society Kathryn Rountree, 2016-05-13 Contemporary western Paganism is now a global religious phenomenon with Pagans in many parts of the world sharing much in common from a nature revering worldview and lifestyle to a host of chants invocations ritual tools and magical practices But there are also locally specific differences Local religious contexts landscapes histories traditions politics values and norms all impact on local Paganisms This is nowhere more evident than in a strongly Catholic society where religion and culture are deeply entwined Taking the Mediterranean society of Malta as a case study this book invites readers inside the world of a small hidden sub culture Showing what it is like being Pagan in a society where the vast majority of the population is Roman Catholic and Catholicism permeates every sphere of public and domestic social and political life Rountree reveals that Paganism here is a unique brew of indigenous and global influences Pagans employ both creativity and borrowing in constructing identities within a cultural context characterized by antagonism as well as continuity This book explores the intersections of religious and cultural identity the global and local Paganism and Christianity with insights grounded in rich ethnographic detail based on long term fieldwork Rountree makes invaluable comparisons with other studies of modern Pagans and their various worlds Malta University of London: Institute of Commonwealth Studies, 2006-12-08 The main purpose of the British Documents on the End of Empire Project BDEEP is to publish documents from British official archives on the ending of colonial and associated rule and on the context in which this took place This publication contains documents which trace British policy towards Malta from the restoration of responsible government in 1946 the attempts at integration and its failure during the years 1954 to 1958 the re imposition of direct rule from 1958 to 1962 to the achievement of its independence in September 1964 and post colonial Anglo Maltese relations during the period 1964 to 1972 Background Notes, Malta ,1985 Captives, Colonists and Craftspeople Russell Palmer,2020-10-15 Over the course of four centuries the island of Malta underwent several significant political transformations including its roles as a Catholic bastion under the Knights of St John between 1530 and 1798 and as a British maritime hub in the nineteenth century This innovative study draws on both archival evidence and archeological findings to compare slavery and coerced labor resource control globalization and other historical phenomena in Malta under the two regimes one feudal the other colonial Spanning conventional divides between the early and late modern eras Russell Palmer offers here a rich analysis of a Mediterranean island against a background of immense European and global change

Sharpley,2017-05-26 This new book reviews all aspects of the phenomenon of mass tourism It covers theoretical perspectives including political economy ethics sustainability and environmentalism the historical context and the current challenges to domestic intra regional and international mass tourism As tourism and tourist numbers continue to grow around the world it becomes increasingly important that this subject is studied in depth and best practice applied in real life situations Finishing with a speculative chapter identifying potential future trends and challenges this book forms an essential resource for all researchers and students within tourism studies

The Europeanisation of Party Politics in Malta Jean Claude Cachia,2023-02-21 This book examines the Europeanisation of party politics in Malta It evaluates the influence of Europeanisation on the political system which is based on two party system polarisation and clientelism Malta is the smallest European Union EU member state which joined the EU in 2004 The road toward membership was fraught with contentious and emotionally charged debates This book explores the relationship between Maltese political parties and the EU the politicisation and framing of the European Union by political parties and the impact of the European Union on Malta s political system The book further discusses more contentious recent events which made headlines at the EU level including the Panama Papers scandals the Individual Investment Programme and the assassination of journalist Daphne Caruana

Galizia The book will appeal to students scholars and researchers of political science and international relations interested in a better understanding of electoral studies Europeanisation European integration as well as the Maltese political system and party politics Malta, Mediterranean Bridge Stefan Goodwin, 2002-06-30 This scholarly yet accessible book explores the social anthropology of Malta within the context of regional cultural exchange between the Maltese and their neighbors Contributors to Malta's rich cultural development have been the Phoenicians Carthaginians Sicilians Greeks Romans Berbers Arabs Turks Normans Spaniards French British and others Other important contributors have been the Holy See and the Order of St John whose members have often been known simply as the Knights of Malta Malta is a missing link to understanding many interrelationships among Mediterranean peoples and civilizations that hitherto have remained hidden or problematic Located at the center of the Mediterranean Basin Malta has been pivotal in numerous cultural transformations and can serve as a prism for understanding much that is important about lifeways in the Mediterranean trade subsistence systems religion urbanization and the transmigration of peoples in war and in peace Europe and the Other and Europe as the Other Bo Stråth, 2010 This book contributes to the debate on what Europe means by demonstrating the complexities and contradictions inherent in the concept They are seen most clearly when Europe is viewed from a long historical perspective During the closing decades of the twentieth century Europe emerged as one of the main points of reference in both the cultural and the political constructs of the global community An obsession with the concept of European identity is readily discernible This process of identity construction provokes critical questions which the book aims to address At the same time the book explores the opportunities offered by the concept of Europe to see how it may be used in the construction of the future The approach is one of both deconstruction and reconstruction The issue of Europe is closely related in the book to more general issues concerning the cultural construction of community The book should therefore be seen as the companion of Myth and Memory in the Construction of Community which is also published by PIE Peter Lang in the series Multiple Europes The book appears within the framework of a research project on the cultural construction of community in modernisation processes in comparison This project is a joint enterprise of the European University Institute in Florence and the Humboldt University in Berlin sponsored by the Bank of Sweden Tercentenary Fund The Making of Christian Malta Anthony Luttrell, 2017-09-29 This title was first published in 2002 Dr Luttrell's work has helped change our understanding of the history of the small islands of Malta and Gozo providing a more coherent story of the ways in which during the Middle Ages a small isolated Muslim community was converted into a more prosperous outpost of Roman Christianity with a unique cultural mixture of Arabic speech and European institutions This selection of studies places the process within the context of developments in the medieval Mediterranean world and combines archaeological and architectural investigations with work in Maltese Sicilian and other archives with a particular focus on ecclesiastical matters a new introduction brings the subject up to date This work is of relevance to scholars of Islam and Christianity while providing insights into the nature of an unusual island community whose significance far exceeds its size
