Ecological Entanglements in the Anthropocene Nicholas Holm, Sy Taffel, 2016-12-21 This edited collection explores the relationships between humans and nature at a time when the traditional sense of separation between human cultures and a natural wilderness is being eroded The Anthropocene whose literal translation is the Age of Man is one way of marking these planetary changes to the Earth system Global climate change and rising sea levels are two prominent examples of how nature can no longer be simply thought of as something outside and removed from humans and vice versa This collection applies the concepts of ecology and entanglement to address pressing political social and cultural issues surrounding human relationships with the nonhuman world in terms of working with nature It asks are there more or less preferable ways of working with nature What forms and practices might this work take and how do we distinguish between them Is the idea of nature even sufficient to approach such questions or do we need to reconsider using the term nature in favour of terms such as environments ecologies or the broad notion of the non human world How might we forge perspectives and enact practices which build resilience and community across species and spaces constructing relationships with nonhumans which go beyond discourses of pollution degradation and destruction Bringing together a range of contributors from across multiple academic disciplines activists and artists this book examines how these questions might help us understand and assess the different ways in which humans transform engage and interact with the nonhuman world

Readercentric Writing for Digital Media David Hailey, 2016-12-05 This book presents an altogether new approach to writing and evaluating writing in digital media It suggests that usability theory provides few tools for evaluating content because usability theory assumes only one kind of writing on the Internet The author suggests three models user centric usability model persuasion centric encouraging the reader to linger and be persuaded Canon camera ads and quality centric encouraging the reader to linger and learn or be entertained because of the quality of the writing NASA gov and YouTube Designed for professional writers and writing students this text provides a rubric for writing in digital media but more importantly it provides a rubric and vocabulary for identifying and explaining problems in copy that already exists The Internet has become a pastiche of cut and paste content often placed by non writers to fill space for no particular reason or by computers with no oversight from humans e g Amazon com Because these snippets are typically on topic but often for the wrong purpose or audience professional writers have difficulty identifying the problems and an even harder time explaining them Finding an effective tool for identifying and explaining problems in digital content becomes a particularly important problem as writers increasingly struggle with growing complications in complex information systems systems that create and manage their own content with little human intervention Being able to look at a body of copy and immediately see that it is problematic is an important skill that is lacking in a surprising number of professional writers

Hemingway, Fitzgerald and the Muse of Romantic Music

Nicole J. Camastra,2023-12-21 Both Ernest Hemingway and F Scott Fitzgerald grew up in the Midwest and were strongly influenced by Romantic music anchored by the aesthetic tastes of the German immigrants who settled across that region Hemingway s ear for form and Fitzgerald s penchant for lyricism stem from early and frequent exposure to such masters as Johannes Brahms and Franz Schubert Nostalgia is typically associated with romanticism and the acoustic longing found in Hemingway and Fitzgerald s fiction resonates with it characterized in the narrative voices in Hemingway s Winner Take Nothing Fitzgerald s Tender Is the Night and other of their fiction from the early thirties Understanding that each writer has his own kind of musical biography charts new ways to read material we already think we know Reading their work within a musico historical context means acknowledging it as an extension of the 19th century it means reading them as Romantic Modernists This work reads each author s prose musically considering how Romantic music inspired their craft and distinguished their work through the pivotal juncture of the early to mid 1930s when each man faced an artistic crisis of conscience Initial chapters provide background information in music history Following chapters focus on how the life of each author was shaped by music and how they worked with specific influences that grew out of steady interactions with it evidence of which is found in archival documents and collections

The Aesthetics of Japanese Fascism Alan Tansman,2009

The range of Alan Tansman s coverage is truly prodigious and diverse from the most obscurantist cultural analysis through mawkish sentimentality and orchestrated nostalgia for the medium past His scholarship is impeccable he knows the relevant secondary literature and has absorbed an impressively wide ranging metacritical literature which he has used with great originality and authority to untangle the knotted relationship between aesthetic modernism and fascism He reads difficult texts brilliantly with seeming and enviable effortlessness and his translations are a joy to read Harry Harootunian University of Chicago Alan Tansman opens up a new apprehension of the fantastic possibilities of these works through his attention to the senses He is as much attuned to the specifically rhythmic and tonal dimensions of writing as he is to its visual possibilities And he has the capacity to evoke these varied sensorial domains in his own re writings which in their refusal to give up on beauty critically recapitulate the very dilemma that his object texts stage the dilemma of beauty within capitalist modernity and its complicity with an aesthetics of unification that often presages violence Marilyn Ivy Columbia University      Narrative in the Professional Age Jennifer Cognard-Black,2004-03-02 Challenging previous studies that claim anxiety and antagonism between transatlantic Victorian authors Jennifer Cognard Black uncovers a model of reciprocal influence among three of the most popular women writers of the era Combining analyses of personal correspondence and print culture with close readings of key narratives this study presents an original history of transatlantic authorship that examines how these writers invented a collaborative aesthetics both within and against the dominant discourse of professionalism      Choice ,1996
