Global Fragments ,2007-01-01 While the world seems to be getting ever smaller and globalization has become the ubiquitous buzz word regionalism and fragmentation also abound This might be due to the fact that far from being the alleged production of cultural homogeneity the global is constantly re defined and altered through the local This tension pervading much of contemporary culture has an obvious special relevance for the new varieties of English and the literature published in English world wide Postcolonial literatures exist at the interface of English as a hegemonic medium and its many national regional and local competitors that transform it in the new English literatures Thus any exploration of a globalization of cultures has to take into account the fact that culture is a complex field characterized by hybridization plurality and difference But while global or transnational cultures may allow for a new cosmopolitanism that produces ever changing fluid identities they do not give rise to an egalitarian global village an asymmetry between centre and periphery remains largely intact albeit along new parameters The essays collected in this volume offer readings of literary theoretical and filmic texts from the postcolonial world These texts are read as attempts to articulate the global with the local from a perspective of immersion in the actual diversity of life worlds focusing on such issues as consumption identity politics and modes of affiliation In this sense they are global fragments locally refractured figurations of an experience of world wide interconnectedness

Reconfiguring Class, Gender, Ethnicity and Ethics in Chinese Internet Culture Haomin Gong,Xin Yang,2017-02-17 New information technologies have to an unprecedented degree come to reshape human relations identities and communities both online and offline As Internet narratives including online fiction poetry and films reflect and represent ambivalent politics in China the Chinese state wishes to enable the formidable soft power of this new medium whilst at the same time handling the ideological uncertainties it inevitably entails This book investigates the ways in which class gender ethnicity and ethics are reconfigured complicated and enriched by the closely intertwined online and offline realities in China It combs through a wide range of theories on Internet culture intellectual history and literary film and cultural studies and explores a variety of online cultural materials including digitized spoofing microblog fictions micro films online fictions web dramas photographs flash mobs popular literature and films These materials have played an important role in shaping the contemporary cultural scene but have so far received little critical attention Here the authors demonstrate how Chinese Internet culture has provided a means to intervene in the otherwise monolithic narratives of identity and community Offering an important contribution to the rapidly growing field of Internet studies this book will also be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese culture literary and film studies media and communication studies and Chinese society

The Novels of Wilton Sankawulo Robert Brown, 2014-10-08 In the first chapter of this monograph Dr Robert H Brown tries to lay the groundwork by discussing some of the problems of writing in Liberia and prospects for Liberian writers Then he lists in chronological order some of the works published by Liberian writers as evidential proof that there is a paucity of creative fiction in Liberia In three subsequent chapters he undertakes a critical study of Wilton Sankawulo's The Rain and the Night Sundown at Dawn A Liberian Odyssey and Birds Are Singing The chapters situate Wilton Sankawulo's creative fiction in its proper context revealing the currents of indigenous Liberian thought that run through it and tracing the connections that link the novels to a new development in his thinking Indeed however dissimilar in titles The Rain and the Night Sundown at Dawn A Liberian Odyssey and Birds Are Singing to some extent share tone setting and ambience that characterize the current moment of Liberia's history as a turning point Despite their minor grammatical infelicities and stylistic ineptitude the three novels are set to become classics in the canon of African literature
