Should the Children Know? Marguerita Rudolph, 1978 Children's Encounters with Death, Bereavement, and Coping Charles Corr, David Balk, 2010-01-15

Children's Encounters with Death Bereavement and Coping is a very well researched document and well written by an impressive cadre of scholars. The book is a must read for marriage and family therapists, clergy, and pediatric care givers whose work intersects the lives of children and the social and environmental systems in which they live. NCFR's Certified Family Life Educators Newsletter F or the resource that offers one of the best bibliographies and guides to resources for the book that contains theory, definitions, treatment modalities, helps, warnings, integration of people and programs, cultural diversity, when it comes to all of this we turn to Charles A. Corr and David E. Balk, editors of Children's Encounters with Death Bereavement and Coping. It is a book you must have on your shelf but don't let it sit there for too long without making good use of it. Illness, Crisis, and Loss: Current filled with sound, theory wise, clinical acumen, sound research, terrific resources, and a multicultural perspective, this book will be a necessary resource for clinicians and educators. Kenneth J. Doka, PhD, Senior Consultant, The Hospice Foundation of America. Corr and Balk's book will help adults find many ways to lead bereaved children to a hopeful belief in their future despite their considerable losses. This book is a real contribution to the growing literature in this field. Nancy Boyd Webb, DSW, LICSW, RPT, S, Distinguished Professor of Social Work, Emerita, Fordham University. Children struggling with death related issues require care and competent assistance from the adults around them. This book serves as a guide for care providers including counselors, social workers, nurses, educators, clergy, and parents who seek to understand and help children as they attempt to cope with loss. This book comprehensively discusses death and grieving within the context of the physical, emotional, social, behavioral, spiritual, and cognitive changes that children experience while coping with death. The chapters also explore new, critical, imaginative, conceptual models and interventions including expressive arts therapy, resilience based approaches, new psychotherapeutic approaches, and more. Key features: Presents guidelines for assisting children coping with the loss of parents, siblings, friends, or pets; Discusses ethical issues in counseling bereaved and seriously ill children; Provides guidelines for helping children manage their emerging awareness and understanding of death; Emphasizes research based, culturally sensitive, and global implications as well as current insights in thanatology.

Handbook of Hospice Policies and Procedures Marilyn D. Harris, Elissa Della Monica, Pamela Boyd, 1999. PART OF THE NEW JONES BARTLETT LEARNING INFORMATION SYSTEMS SECURITY ASSURANCE SERIES. Security Strategies in Linux Platforms and Applications covers every major aspect of security on a Linux system. Written by an industry expert, this book is divided into three natural parts to illustrate key concepts in the field. It opens with a discussion on the risks, threats, and vulnerabilities associated with Linux as an operating system, using examples from Red Hat Enterprise Linux and Ubuntu. Part 2 discusses how to take advantage of the layers of security available to Linux user and group options, filesystems, and security options for important services, as well as the security modules associated with AppArmor and SELinux The book closes with a look at the use of both open source and proprietary tools when building a layered security strategy for Linux operating system environments Using real world examples and exercises this useful resource incorporates hands on activities to walk students through the fundamentals of security strategies related to the Linux system

Helping Children Cope With Grief Alan Wolfelt, 2013-08-21 First published in 1984 A common myth is that that young children say around three years of age do not understand death or give the death of friend pet brother sister parent grandparent other relative or give it a Raggedy Ann doll meaning However research has indicated that they do If it is difficult for us to think about our death it is the author s hypothesis that to think of the death of our children is an even greater difficulty We dread the thought of our children suffering pain dying and death Similarly the thought of our children suffering grief is difficult for us to comprehend Helping Children Cope With Grief is more universal to more than the area of grief and is a valuable tool for parents teachers and counselors when their goal is to develop happier more loving children

Stephen Lives Anne Puryear, 1997-04 The author discusses the life of her son Stephen who committed suicide at the age of fifteen and relates messages she has received from him since his death telling her why he took his own life and offering hope to other people who may be discouraged with their own lives

Children, Adolescents, and Death Robert G. Stevenson, Gerry R. Cox, 2017-02-02 The topic of death and related issues such as grief often begin with questions When the questions come from or are about children or adolescents they bring an additional component the fear some adults have of giving a wrong answer In this context a wrong answer is one that can cause more harm than good for the child or adolescent who asked the question This book provides information that can be used to address the death related questions from children and adolescents It also looks at questions from caring adults about the way children or adolescents view death and the grief that follows a death or any major loss Children Adolescents and Death covers topics that start with early studies of childhood grief and progress to expression of grief in cyberspace There is no one answer to most of the questions in this book There are contributors from a number of continents countries cultures and academic disciplines each of whom brings a unique view of the topic issues they discuss There are presentations of practical interventions that others may copy upon which they can build There are a number of chapters that look at death education in both family and school settings This work contains ideas and techniques that can be of value to parents educators counselors therapists spiritual advisors caring adults and of course will be of the most benefit to those who ask the most questions the children and adolescents themselves

Beyond the Innocence of Childhood David Adams, Eleanor Deveau, 2020-11-25 Death is not a mere possibility but a certainty for all of us Yet today's society unrealistically portrays childhood as a time of unremittant joy and freedom Unfortunately the reality of life may suddenly bring children face to face with tragic circumstances such as the death of their pet the terminal illness of their parent their own struggle with life threatening disease the accidental death of their sibling or the suicide of a friend The gravity of any of these situations takes children beyond the innocence of childhood and plunges them into a world that is frightening and full of uncertainty Unfortunately our perceptions and attitudes toward death do not equip children with the tools to help them cope adequately with such overwhelming experiences Beyond the Innocence of Childhood is a collection of forty chapters which are divided into three separate volumes The overall purpose of this series is to answer the question How do we as educators clinicians other professionals and parents help children and adolescents deal with threat to their lives dying death and bereavement In this three volume set the editors have brought together a number of well known educators researchers and practitioners who share their knowledge and expertise concerning the care and well being of children and adolescents

SPECIFIC TO VOLUME 1 Children explore the world around them through spontaneous and later structured learning acquire knowledge learn to understand themselves establish their role in the family develop peer and adult relationships and find their place in the world However today's society does not include death as part of this developmental process Unfortunately such avoidance may negatively influence children's ability to acquire an understanding of the concepts of death and to develop positive attitudes toward death Highlights of this section include Answering children's questions Children and death past present and future Gender differences Teachable moments Perceptions of death cognitive development and children's artwork The second part of volume 1 examines influences in today's society that potentially impact on children and adolescents perceptions and attitudes toward life threatening illness and death This volume offers readers valuable insights into the various factors which ultimately affect children's ability to achieve a mature understanding of death. Features include the following: Violent death in a popular culture and the media; Political conflict and war; The epidemic of AIDS; Cultural differences in the management of life-threatening illness; Death rituals and funeral ceremonies.

Childhood and Death Hannelore Wass, Charles A. Corr, 1984 Death in the Life of Children Kaoru Yamamoto, 1978 Shadows in the Sun Betty Davies, 2015-12-22 Shadows in the Sun covers the immediate short and long term responses and subsequent generational effects of sibling bereavement and discusses sibling responses in the context of the variables which influence them. The final chapter synthesizes all that has gone before into a comprehensive model of sibling bereavement. Practical guidelines are offered for those who seek to help grieving siblings, children and families.

Companioning the Grieving Child Alan D. Wolfelt, 2012-06-01 Renowned author and educator Alan Wolfelt redefines the role of the grief counselor in this guide for caregivers to grieving children. Providing a viable alternative to the limitations of the medical establishment's model for companioning the bereaved, Wolfelt encourages counselors and other caregivers to aspire to a more compassionate philosophy in which the child is the expert of his or her grief, not the counselor or caregiver. The approach outlined in the book argues against treating grief as an illness to be diagnosed and treated, but rather for acknowledging it as an event that forever changes a child's worldview. By promoting careful listening and observation, this guide shows caregivers, family members, teachers and others how to support grieving children and help them grow into healthy adults.

Death and the Life After Billy Graham, 1994-10 Explores issues of death and afterlife including euthanasia, suicide, living wills. Provides help with comforting those who are facing death, planning a funeral and more.

Encounters with Wild Children Adriana S. Benzaquén, 2006-04-05 Through detailed readings of a wide variety of accounts, debates and representations, Encounters with Wild Children explores the many different meanings these children were given and the varied responses they elicited. Adriana Benzaquén explains why wild children continue to haunt and fascinate Western scientists and shows how the knowledge they have generated in different disciplines, including anthropology, psychology, psychiatry, pedagogy, linguistics and sociology, has contributed to the shaping and reshaping of the modern understanding of the child and affected the social and institutional practices directed at all children in schools, welfare, mental health and the law.

The Developing Person Through the Life Span Kathleen Stassen Berger, 2011-02-18 The seventh edition comes with significant revision of cognitive development throughout childhood, revised and updated chapters on adolescence and more attention to emerging and early adulthood. It is a thorough revision with new research on everything from genetics to the timing of puberty, including brain development, life span disorders and cultural diversity. It also includes new learning features promoting critical thinking, revision and application product description.

A Stepping-stone Year Margaret K. Gooding, 1989 Coping With Loss Susan Nolen-Hoeksema, Judith Larson, Judith M. Larson, 2013-01-11 Coping With Loss describes the many ways in which people cope with the death of someone they love. Most earlier books on bereavement have fallen into two categories: distillations of the clinical experience of individual therapists or collections of chapters reporting the results of empirical studies Each category is valuable but has tended to serve a narrow group of readers practitioners with particular theoretical orientations or researchers in quest of the latest findings Coauthored by a leading research psychologist and an experienced therapist who specializes in bereavement education and intervention this book is different The authors weave together the strands of theory research and clinical wisdom into a seamless and readable narrative While they discuss previous work they also present new data never before published from one of the largest studies of bereaved people ever conducted the Bereavement Coping Project Unlike most studies to date which focused on only one type of bereaved group usually widows or widowers the Bereavement Coping Project examined the experiences of several different groups during the first 18 months after the death The groups included those who had lost a spouse a parent an adult sibling or a child and those who had lost their significant other to cancer or cardiovascular disease on one hand as opposed to the stigmatized disease of AIDS on the other The book begins with a critical overview of theories of bereavement succeeding chapters explore in depth the impact of specific types of loss the impact of particular coping strategies on recovery the impact of social supports and religion and the special cases of children and of people who seem to grow and change for the better after a loss A final chapter considers implications for intervention with bereaved people Each chapter is richly illuminated with real life examples throughout and ends with a section called Voices in which bereaved people describe their various attempts to cope in their own words Insightful and informative

Life and Loss Linda Goldman, 2013-11-20 Many clinicians recognize that denying or ignoring grief issues in children leaves them feeling alone and that acknowledging loss is crucial part of a child's healthy development Really dealing with loss in productive ways however is sometimes easier said than done For decades Life and Loss has been the book clinicians have relied on for a full and nuanced presentation of the many issues with which grieving children grapple as well as an honest exploration of the interrelationship between unresolved grief educational success and responsible citizenry The third edition of Life and Loss brings this exploration firmly into the twenty first century and makes a convincing case that children's grief is no longer restricted only to loss identified children Children's grief is now endemic it is global Life and Loss is not just the book clinicians need to understand grief in the twenty first century it's the book they need to work with it in constructive ways
