CHAPTER XI EXILE BY ADMINISTRATIVE PROCESS THE colony of political exiles in Ust Kamenogorsk was the last one that we saw in the steppe territories and it seems to me desirable before proceeding with the narrative of our Siberian journey to describe more fully and carefully the particular form of punishment that these offenders were undergoing a form of punishment that is known in Russia as exile by administrative process Exile by administrative process means the banishment of an obnoxious person from one part of the empire to another without the observance of any of the legal formalities that in most civilized countries precede the deprivation of rights and the restriction of personal liberty The obnoxious person may not be guilty of any crime and may not have rendered himself amenable in any way to the laws of the state but if in the opinion of the local authorities his presence in a particular place is prejudicial to public order or incompatible with public tranquillity he may be arrested without a warrant may be held from two weeks to two years in prison and may then be removed by force to any other place within the limits of the empire and there be put under police surveillance for a period of from one year to ten years He may or may not be informed of the reasons for this summary proceeding but in either case he is perfectly helpless He cannot examine the witnesses upon whose testimony his presence is declared to be prejudicial to public order He cannot summon friends to prove his loyalty and good character without great risk of bringing upon them the same calamity that has befallen him He has no right to demand a trial or even a hearing He cannot sue out a writ of habeas corpus He cannot appeal
