Major Political Events In Indochina 1945 1990:

Major Political Events in Indo-China, 1945-1990 Darren J. Sagar, 1991-01 Offers a detailed chronology of military political economic and social events in the history of the region The Aftermath of the French Defeat in Vietnam Mark E. Cunningham, Lawrence J. Zwier, 2009-01-01 Follow the dramatic story of bloody Dien Bien Phu and its aftermath years of savage fighting in the jungles of Vietnam antiwar protests political turmoil in the United States and ultimate reunification of Vietnam Michael Lind, 2013-07-30 Michael Lind casts new light on one of the most contentious episodes in Vietnam American history in this controversial bestseller In this groundgreaking reinterpretation of America's most disatrous and controversial war Michael Lind demolishes enduring myths and put the Vietnam War in its proper context as part of the global conflict between the Soviet Union and the United States Lind reveals the deep cultural divisions within the United States that made the Cold War consensus so fragile and explains how and why American public support for the war in Indochina declined Even more stunning is his provacative argument that the United States failed in Vietnam because the military establishment did not adapt to the demands of what before 1968 had been largely a guerrilla war In an era when the United States so often finds itself embroiled in prolonged and difficult conflicts Lind offers a sobering cautionary tale to Ameicans of all political viewpoints Repression of Montagnards Sidney Jones, Joseph Saunders, Malcolm Smart, Human Rights Watch (Organization), 2002 A Plea for Help Making Peace with the 60s David Burner, 2021-07-13 David Burner s panoramic history of the 1960s conveys the ferocity of debate and the testing of visionary hopes that still require us to make sense of the decade He begins with the civil rights and black power movements and then turns to nuanced descriptions of Kennedy and the Cold War the counterculture and its antecedents in the Beat Generation the student rebellion the poverty wars and the liberals war in Vietnam As he considers each topic Burner advances a provocative argument about how liberalism self destructed in the 1960s In his view the civil rights movement took a wrong turn as it gradually came to emphasize the identity politics of race and ethnicity at the expense of the vastly more important politics of class and distribution of wealth The expansion of the Vietnam War did force radicals to confront the most terrible mistake of American liberalism but that they also turned against the social goals of the New Deal was destructive to all concerned Liberals seemed to rule in politics and in the media Burner points out yet they failed to make adequate use of their power to advance the purposes that both liberalism and the left endorsed And forces for social amelioration splintered into pairs of enemies such as integrationists and black separatists the social left and mainline liberalism and advocates of peace and supporters of a totalitarian Hanoi Making Peace with the 60s will fascinate baby boomers and their elders who either joined denounced or tried to ignore the counterculture It will also inform a broad audience of younger people about the famous political and literary figures of the time the salient moments and above all the powerful ideas that spawned events from the civil rights era to the Vietnam War Finally it will help to explain why Americans failed to make full use of the energies unleashed by one of Collateral Damage Nicholas Khoo,2011-02-21 Although the Chinese and the Vietnamese were Cold War allies in wars against the French and the Americans their alliance collapsed and they ultimately fought a war against each other in 1979 More than thirty years later the fundamental cause of the alliance's termination remains contested among historians international relations theorists and Asian studies specialists Nicholas Khoo brings fresh perspective to this debate Using Chinese language materials released since the end of the Cold War Khoo revises existing explanations for the termination of China's alliance with Vietnam arguing that Vietnamese cooperation with China's Cold War adversary the Soviet Union was the necessary and sufficient cause for the alliance's termination. He finds alternative explanations to be less persuasive These emphasize nonmaterial causes such as ideology and culture or reference issues within the Sino Vietnamese relationship such as land and border disputes Vietnam's treatment of its ethnic Chinese minority and Vietnam s'attempt to establish a sphere of influence over Cambodia and Laos Khoo also adds to the debate over the relevance of realist theory in interpreting China's international behavior during both the Cold War and post Cold War eras While others see China as a social state driven by nonmaterial processes Khoo makes the case for viewing China as a quintessential neorealist state From this perspective the focus of neorealist theory on security threats from materially stronger powers explains China's foreign policy not only toward the Soviet Union but also in relation to its Vietnamese allies

The Wars of French Decolonization Anthony Clayton, 2014-06-06 This ambitious survey draws together the two major wars of decolonization fought by France in Indochina and Algeria as well as the lesser but far from insignificant military operations in Madagascar Tunisia and Morocco into a single integrated account It examines traditional French attitudes to empire and how these changed under the pressure of events the military operations themselves the collapse of the Fourth Republic and the return of de Gaulle and the final drama of French withdrawal from Algeria and the ethnic cleansing of its European settler population The People's Republic of Kampuchea, 1979-1989 Margaret Slocomb, 2003 When the Khmer Rouge troops entered Phnom Penh on 17th April 1975 it seemed that the Cambodian revolution had been secured During the following four years Cambodian society was dramatically transformed at great cost in terms of human misery and death Despite its outward display of total power the regime of Democratic Kampuchea was deeply fragmented along factional lines within the Communist Party of Kampuchea which eventually ripped it apart On the morning of 25th December 1978 a huge military force of the People's Army of Vietnam spearheaded a counter attack by the Kampuchean Front for National Salvation led by a former KR commander Heng Samrin They found a country in ruins the economy shattered and the people shocked and dispirited This book examines the Cambodian revolution before and after Pol Pot and attempts to explain the reasons for its ultimate failure In particular it traces the efforts of the post DK regime that of the People's Republic of Kampuchea to rebuild both the state and the revolution Many factors intervened to defeat their efforts to restore revolution Nevertheless the PRK did rebuild the state and the economy and it helped return people s lives to the conditions of pre
