The Journal of the Bombay Natural History Society Bombay Natural History Society, 1923      Attracting Birds in the Texas Hill Country W. Rufus Stephens, Jan Wrede, 2016-12-22 After years of working with landowners land managers naturalists county officials and others about wildlife management and land stewardship for birds in the Texas Hill Country biologist Rufus Stephens and educator Jan Wrede teamed up to write a practical guidebook on how to improve habitat for birds on both small and large properties throughout the Hill Country Because each bird species has specific needs for cover food water nesting and rearing their young the book is organized by Hill Country habitat types wooded slopes and savannahs grasslands rivers and creeks canyons seeps and springs tanks and ponds plus residential backyards Each chapter contains an in depth discussion of common problems and possible solutions for developing optimum habitat The book showcases 107 species in their habitats with color photographs and a short descriptive account of how to know the bird and care for its habitat Three additional chapters on predator control deer management and cedar management offer detailed information on these special issues that impact the presence of birds throughout the region As a comprehensive guide to habitat assessment identification of birds and the habitats they use plus stewardship practices that will benefit these birds Attracting Birds in the Texas Hill Country offers landowners the ideal how to manual for writing an effective Wildlife Tax Valuation plan By helping readers recognize and evaluate habitat health and then use appropriate habitat enhancement practices the authors hope to inspire and enable widespread and effective bird conservation in the Texas Hill Country And as bird populations flourish so do the populations of other wildlife

The Charm of the Hills Seton Paul Gordon, 1912      Make for the Hills Robert Thompson, 1989-06-01 When Robert Thompson left Cambridge to join the Malayan Civil Service in 1938 the sun still shone on the British Empire for 24 hours a day The outbreak of war in the Pacific found him in Hong Kong from which he was obliged to make a hurried and dramatic exit From that point most of his working life was spent in military and political circles as one of the world's leading experts on counterinsurgency measures on which subject he has written a number of highly regarded works Now with wit and modesty he tells the story of his own eventful life After the war during which he served in both operations in Burma he returned to Malaya and it was there during the Emergency that he gained the experience in anti terrorist operations which was eventually to lead him as special adviser to Vietnam and on to Washington En route he was privileged to meet many of the most influential and controversial figures of his time from Wingate and Templer to Kennedy Nixon and Kissinger His comments on these and many others are candid and revealing Make for the Hills is both a fascinating autobiography and an important addition to the history of the post war world especially that of South East Asia

Hill Country Landowner's Guide James P. Stanley, 2009-11-09 In this invaluable new book Jim Stanley charts a practical course for understanding and handling a variety of problems that both new and established landowners in the Texas Hill Country will confront from brush control grazing and overpopulation of deer to erosion fire and management of exotic animals and plants Filled with advice that landowners can easily absorb and implement this book conveys basic knowledge Stanley has gained from personal experience and from other experts during his years in the Hill Country Annual Report Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station,1914 Vols 41 1916 17 include the Station s Bulletin and other of Its publications which are also issued separately The Land of the Hills and the Glens Seton Paul Gordon,1920 The Edinburgh Review ,1877 The Emu ,1919 Insects and Ant-plants ,1904 Bulletin of the American Museum of Natural History American Museum of Natural History,1906 Comprises articles on geology paleontology mammalogy ornithology entomology and anthropology Making a Nest in the Hills Joy Barrow,2002 The author recounts the experiences of herself and her family when they leave the city and establish a vineyard in Mudgee Appendices include details of financing and strategy Supplementary exercises [by G.B.N. Hill] to Henry's first Latin book [by T.K. Arnold. With] Key George Birkbeck N. Hill,1865 Inside Anthills Henry Abbot,2015-07-15 A healthy thriving life begins at home What kind of home that is depends on who or what you re talking about This text takes readers inside an ant nest inviting them to explore the network of tunnels and chambers these amazing architects construct The text s information rich content supports elementary science curricula allowing readers to identify the relationship between an ant s home and their social behavior food finding techniques and general survival Detailed photographs helpful diagrams and interesting fact boxes supplement the text s informative yet engaging subject matter Grassfinches in Australia Mark Shephard OAM,Anthony Pridham,Joseph M Forshaw,2012-08-09 It is not surprising that Australian grassfinches are highly popular with ornithologists and aviculturists for included among the species are one of the most beautiful of all birds the Gouldian Finch Erythrura gouldiae and one of the most familiar cagebirds the Zebra Finch Taeniopygia guttata Despite a scarcity in published works on finches interest in the species is growing leading to a dramatic advancement in our knowledge of many species For example we have gained new information from field observations carried out on little known species including the Blue faced Parrot Finch Erythrura trichroa and the Red eared Firetail Stagonopleura oculata Significant advances in taxonomic research largely as a consequence of the development and refinement of biochemical analyses often involving DNA DNA hybridisation have given us a new insight into relationships among species with some unexpected alliances being determined Additionally dramatic changes have taken place in avicultural practices and in virtually all countries aviculture has taken on a new professional approach with the most notable results being increased productivity and success with a wider variety of species After a lapse of almost half a century since publication of Klaus Immelmann s eminent work on finches based on extensive field studies the time has come for a new examination of Australian grassfinches In Grassfinches in Australia Joseph Forshaw Mark Shephard and Anthony Pridham have summarised our present knowledge of each species and have given readers a visual appreciation of the birds in their natural habitats and in aviculture The resulting combination of superb artwork and scientifically accurate text ensures that this volume will become the standard reference work on Australian grassfinches In addition to enabling aviculturists to know more about these finches in the wild as a guide to their own husbandry techniques detailed information on current management practices for all species in captivity is provided The book also includes colour plates depicting some of the more common mutations held in Australian and overseas collections James J. Hill Michael P. Malone,2013-06-14 In this volume Michael P Malone provides a succinct interpretive biography of James J Hill the Empire Builder so called for his work in developing the region of the United States between the Great Lakes and the Pacific Northwest Malone explores Hill s complex life and personality his activities and interests and recreates both the story of the railroad race to the Pacific and the complex interactions involved in the development of the region Michael Malone has written a model interpretative biography of James J Hill He has drawn on the research of others published and unpublished as he says but also on his own knowledge of American economic development in Hill s time as a leading historian of mining and of a state in whose development Hill s railroads were major factors Earl Pomeroy Professor of History Retired University of Oregon and University of California San Diego The Budget Report of the State Board of Finance and Control to the General Assembly, Session of [1929-] 1937 Connecticut.
