Doing What's Best For Kids John Gilpin, 2012-10-09 Doing What's Best for Kids is a centennial history of one of the most important social institutions in the history of Fort McMurray. It explores the Fort McMurray Public School Board's relationship since 1912 to the development of oil, sands, salt, mining, fishing, lumbering, steamboat operations, aviation, and railway development. The booms and busts of these industries at times threatened the existence of the district, and at other times were the basis for growth. The people who have made this history are a feature of this book. This group includes Douglas Craig and Cassia McTavish, who ensured that the fledgling school established in 1912 would survive the economic slump of 1913. The struggles with the department of education in Edmonton over funding and school approvals are another theme. Collectively, it is the story of persistence and accomplishment in a location far from Edmonton but rich in human and natural resources.

In this book, Lauren Blair not only challenges such benighted behavior but makes the case as to how such children can be viewed as gifts from God who can bless the rest of us. Tony Campolo, Author, Speaker, Professor Emeritus of Sociology at Eastern University, Founder of the Evangelical Association for the Promotion of Education, Lauren Blair tells a story that will warm your heart but not until it breaks it, deepens it, expands it, and fills it with love for beautiful African children you've not yet met.
