Making Of Modern Uganda:

The Making of Modern Uganda Kenneth Ingham, 2023-10-13 First published in 1958 The Making of Modern Uganda is concerned with the formation of modern Uganda in the sixty years since the 1890s when the foundations of the British administration were laid In the first decade of the 20th century Sir Hesketh Bell Uganda's Governor decided that Uganda should be built up by Africans under the disinterested guidance of Europeans The book therefore traces the emergence of a territory whose material prosperity is mainly based upon peasant agriculture guided by the advice of British agricultural officers It describes the development from an era of tribal clan and even village organisation to the system of centralised government along semi parliamentary lines but notes the disagreement as to whether Uganda's future should lie as a unitary or a federal state The controversial issue of closer union with the other East African territories is studied at some length as also is the growth of the politically active minority which plays so important a part in the modern Protectorate The author believes that the years of happy Uganda the years before the Second World War were a period in which hard work coupled with peace and obvious progress tended to conceal for many the growth of new forces which needed an outlet and only found one in the political and constitutional developments of the post war age This book will be of interest to students of history African studies ethnic studies and political science

The Making of Modern Uganda Kenneth Ingham, 1958 A History of Modern Uganda Richard J. Reid, 2017-02-17 This book is the first major study in several decades to consider Uganda as a nation from its precolonial roots to the present day Here Richard J Reid examines the political economic and social history of Uganda providing a unique and wide ranging examination of its turbulent and dynamic past for all those studying Uganda's place in African history and African politics Reid identifies and examines key points of rupture and transition in Uganda's history emphasising dramatic political and social change in the precolonial era especially during the nineteenth century and he also examines the continuing repercussions of these developments in the colonial and postcolonial periods By considering the ways in which historical culture and consciousness has been ever present in political discourse art and literature and social relationships Reid defines the true extent of Uganda's viable national history

The Shaping of Modern Uganda and Administrative Divisions Idi Amin, 1976 Social Origins of Violence in Uganda, 1964-1985 A. Kasozi, 1994-12-21 Using a convincing causal model of violence Kasozi attributes the major causes of violence in Uganda to social inequality the failure to develop legitimate conflict resolution mechanisms and factors that have influenced the domain and patterns of conflict in that society such as lack of a common language religious sectarianism vigilante justice and gender inequality He concludes the study by drawing comparisons with neighbouring countries and offering some prescriptions for alleviating the violence Kasozi was assisted by Nakanyike Musisi and James Mukooza Sejjengo who participated in the research on this book The Social Origins of Violence in Uganda is one of the most thorough and comprehensive analyses of the causes levels and incidence of more than two decades of violence in Uganda
