Making Beaubourg A Building Biography:

The Making of Beaubourg Nathan Silver, 1997-02-24 This is the story of how France's famed cultural icon one of the most controversial and supremely public buildings of the century was designed and built Nathan Silver's detailed account of the Centre Pompidou still called Beaubourg by its designers and by Parisians takes the form of a fascinating and insightful building biography Not just a book about a building but about the making of a building this fresh heterodox means of inquiry is a holistic reading of the intricate process of creating architecture in contemporary society that brings to light its human story encompassing its stylistic historical technical and social aspects Beaubourg Silver reveals was unlike anything that had ever been built A realization of ideals and aspirations of its architectural generation a rethinking of fundamental precepts of design and construction it took nothing for granted and it has since become one of the most popular tourist attractions in Europe flaunting new principles that other architects have to come to terms with The Story of Architecture Witold Rybczynski, 2022-11-29 An inviting exploration of architecture across cultures and centuries by one of the field's eminent authors In this sweeping history from the Stone Age to the present day Witold Rybczynski shows how architectural ideals have been affected by technological economic and social changes and by changes in taste The host of examples ranges from places of worship such as Hagia Sophia and Brunelleschi's Duomo to living spaces such as the Katsura Imperial Villa and the Alhambra national icons such as the Lincoln Memorial and the Sydney Opera House and skyscrapers such as the Seagram Building and Beijing's CCTV headquarters Rybczynski's narrative emphasizes the ways that buildings across time and space are united by the human desire for order meaning and beauty This is the story of architecture's physical manifestation of the universal aspiration to celebrate honor and commemorate and an exploration of the ways that each building is a unique product of patrons architects and builders Firm in opinion even handed and rooted in scholarship this book will delight anyone interested in understanding the buildings they use visit and pass by each day Designing Urban Transformation Aseem Inam, 2013-10-23 While designers possess the creative capabilities of shaping cities their often singular obsession with form and aesthetics actually reduces their effectiveness as they are at the mercy of more powerful generators of urban form In response to this paradox Designing Urban Transformation addresses the incredible potential of urban practice to radically change cities for the better The book focuses on a powerful question What can urbanism be by arguing that the most significant transformations occur by fundamentally rethinking concepts practices and outcomes Drawing inspiration from the philosophical movement known as Pragmatism the book proposes three conceptual shifts for transformative urban practice a beyond material objects city as flux b beyond intentions consequences of design and c beyond practice urbanism as creative political act Pragmatism encourages us to consider how we can make deeper and more systemic changes and how urbanism itself can be a design strategy for such transformations To illuminate how these conceptual shifts operate in vastly different contexts through analysis of transformative urban initiatives and projects in Belo

Horizonte Boston Cairo Karachi Los Angeles New Delhi and Paris The book is a rare integration of theory and practice that proposes essential ways of rethinking city design and building processes while drawing critical lessons from actual examples of such processes Facilities Change Management Edward Finch, 2011-11-14 Modern organisations are subject to continual change technologies evolve organisational structures are modified people and underlying cultures are transformed Yet the facilities that organisations occupy are static and can impede the changes that are essential to organisational survival The response to change in terms of property and support services is often too little too late leading to facilities that do not support organisational reality The facilities management team is thus constantly challenged to bridge the gap between what an organisation has and what it needs Facilities Change Management is a practical evaluation of the management of change for facilities managers and related professions It considers the forces of change affecting facilities decisions the obstacles to change at a resource level and human level the effective implementation of change the human aspect of change Each of these is considered in relation to modern facilities management issues The discussion will enable practising facilities managers project managers surveyors service providers and architects to understand engage with and manage facilities change effectively at a strategic level Through real life case studies it demonstrates the complexities of change and hidden elements of change that may undermine carefully planned projects Italy Diane Ghirardo, 2013-02-15 Packed in its dense historic city centers Italy holds some of the most prized architecture and art in the world with which planners and politicians have had to negotiate as they struggle to cope with massive migration from the countryside to the city Early modern architecture coincided with a sustained drive to transform a country that was still primarily rural into a modern industrial state and throughout the twentieth century architects in Italy have attempted to define the role of architecture within a capitalist economy and under diverse political systems In Italy Modern Architectures in History Diane Yvonne Ghirardo addresses these and other issues in her analysis of the last century of Italy's building practices Specifically she examines the post unification efforts to identify a distinctly Italian architectural language as well as the transformation of the urban environment in Italian cities undergoing industrialization in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries She challenges received interpretations of modern architecture and also looks at the subject of illegal building and current responses to ecological challenges In order to illuminate the full scope of the building industry in Italy her examples are drawn not only from the work of widely published architects in the largest cities but from throughout the peninsula including small towns and rural areas Insightful reading for those interested in Italian culture this book offers a new way of understanding the architectural history of modern Italy Architecture, Politics, and Identity in Divided Berlin Emily Pugh, 2014-03-21 On August 13 1961 under the cover of darkness East German authorities sealed the border between East and West Berlin using a hastily constructed barbed wire fence Over the next twenty eight years of the Cold War the Berlin Wall grew to become an ever present physical and psychological divider in this capital city and a powerful symbol of Cold War tensions Similarly stark polarities arose in nearly every aspect of public and private life including the built environment In Architecture Politics and Identity in Divided Berlin Emily Pugh provides an original comparative analysis of selected works of architecture and urban planning in both halves of Berlin during the Wall era revealing the importance of these structures to the formation of political cultural and social identities Pugh uncovers the roles played by organizations such as the Foundation for Prussian Cultural Heritage and the Building Academy in conveying the political narrative of their respective states through constructed spaces She also provides an overview of earlier notable architectural works to show the precursors for design aesthetics in Berlin at large and considers projects in the post Wall period to demonstrate the ongoing effects of the Cold War Overall Pugh offers a compelling case study of a divided city poised between powerful contending political and ideological forces and she highlights the effort expended by each side to influence public opinion in Europe and around the World through the manipulation of the built environment

The Architecture of Neoliberalism Douglas Spencer, 2016-10-20 The Architecture of Neoliberalism pursues an uncompromising critique of the neoliberal turn in contemporary architecture This book reveals how a self styled parametric and post critical architecture serves mechanisms of control and compliance while promoting itself at the same time as progressive Spencer's incisive analysis of the architecture and writings of figures such as Zaha Hadid Patrik Schumacher Rem Koolhaas and Greg Lynn shows them to be in thrall to the same notions of liberty as are propounded in neoliberal thought Analysing architectural projects in the fields of education consumption and labour The Architecture of Neoliberalism examines the part played by contemporary architecture in refashioning human subjects into the compliant figures student entrepreneurs citizen consumers and team workers requisite to the universal implementation of a form of existence devoted to market imperatives

The Architecture of Persistence David Fannon, Michelle Laboy, Peter Wiederspahn, 2021-08-24 The Architecture of Persistence argues that continued human use is the ultimate measure of sustainability in architecture and that expanding the discourse about adaptability to include

Obsolescence Daniel M. Abramson,2016-02-12 In our architectural pursuits we often seem to be in search of something newer grander or more efficient and this phenomenon is not novel In the spring of 1910 hundreds of workers labored day and night to demolish the Gillender Building in New York once the loftiest office tower in the world in order to make way for a taller skyscraper The New York Times puzzled over those who would sacrifice the thirteen year old structure as ruthlessly as though it were some ancient shack In New York alone the Gillender joined the original Grand Central Terminal the Plaza Hotel the Western Union Building and the Tower Building on the list of just one generation s razed metropolitan monuments In the innovative and wide ranging Obsolescence Daniel M Abramson investigates this notion of architectural expendability and the logic by which buildings lose their value and utility The idea that the new necessarily outperforms and makes superfluous the old Abramson argues helps people come to terms with modernity and capitalism s fast paced change Obsolescence then gives an unsettling experience purpose and meaning Belief in obsolescence as Abramson shows also profoundly affects architectural design In the 1960s many architects worldwide accepted the inevitability of obsolescence experimenting with flexible modular designs from open plan schools offices labs and museums to vast megastructural frames and indeterminate building complexes Some architects went so far as to embrace obsolescence s liberating promise to cast aside convention and habit envisioning expendable short life buildings that embodied human choice and freedom Others we learn were horrified by the implications of this ephemerality and waste and their resistance eventually set the stage for our turn to sustainability the conservation rather than disposal of resources Abramson s fascinating tour of our idea of obsolescence culminates in an assessment of recent manifestations of sustainability from adaptive reuse and historic preservation to postmodernism and green design which all struggle to comprehend and manage the changes that challenge us on all sides

The Inhabitable Flesh of Architecture Marcos Cruz, 2017-03-02 Today s architecture has failed the body with its long heritage of purity of form and aesthetic of cleanliness A resurgence of interest in flesh especially in art has led to a politics of abjection completely changing traditional aesthetics and is now giving light to an alternative discussion about the body in architecture This book is dedicated to a future vision of the body in architecture questioning the contemporary relationship between our Human Flesh and the changing Architectural Flesh Through the analysis and design of a variety of buildings and projects Flesh is proposed as a concept that extends the meaning of skin one of architecture s most fundamental metaphors It seeks to challenge a common misunderstanding of skin as a flat and thin surface In a time when a pervasive discourse about the impact of digital technologies risks turning the architectural skin ever more disembodied this book argues for a thick embodied flesh by exploring architectural interfaces that are truly inhabitable Different concepts of Flesh are investigated not only concerning the architectural and aesthetic but also the biological aspects The latter is materialised in form of Synthetic Neoplasms which are proposed as new semi living entities rather than more commonly derived from scaled up analogies between biological systems and larger scale architectural constructs These neoplastic creations are identified as partly designed object and partly living material in which the line between the natural and the artificial is progressively blurred Hybrid technologies and interdisciplinary work methodologies are thus required and lead to a revision of our current architectural practice

High-Tech Heritage Matthias Brenner, Silke Langenberg, Kirsten Angermann, Hans-Rudolf Meier, 2024-08-06 High tech Architecture Preserving the Heritage of Innovative Construction The high tech architecture of the 1970s 1990s is typically characterized by the use and exhibition of advanced technologies In terms of appearance these buildings often have innovative facades supporting structures accentuated in color and expressively displayed technology systems Unfortunately however the rapid obsolescence of technology has often led to the complete replacement of the very systems that defined the architectural form In 2023 an international conference at ETH Zurich in collaboration with Bauhaus University Weimar explored the question of how best to deal with the structural legacy of technologically innovative architecture This book summarizes the results and provides an overview of the current state of research Current state of research on high tech architecture and its conservation Overview of the opportunities and challenges of high tech buildings New findings on the topic of building within existing structures Also available as a set with the congress volume Denkmal Postmoderne 978 3 0356 2783 1

Shaping the Surface Stephen Kite, 2022-11-17 Shaping the Surface explores the history of modern British architecture through the lens of surface materiality and decoration Picking up on a trait that art historian Nikolaus Pevsner first identified as a national mania for beautiful surface quality this book makes a new contribution to architectural history and visual culture in its detailed examination of the surfaces of British architecture from the middle of the 19th century up to the turn of the 21st century. Tracing this continuing sensibility to surface all the way through to the modern era it explores how and why surface and materiality have featured so heavily in recent architectural tradition examining the history of British architecture through a selection of key cultural moments and movements from Romanticism and the Arts and Crafts to Brutalism High Tech Post Modernism Neo Vernacular and the New Materiality. Embedded within the narrative is the question of whether such national characters can exist in architecture at all and indeed the extent to which it is possible to identify a British architectural consciousness in an architectural tradition characterised by its continuous importation of theories ideas materials and people from around the globe. Shaping the Surface provides a deep critique and meditation on the importance of surface and materiality for architects designers and historians everywhere in Britain and beyond while it also serves as a thematic introduction to modern British architectural history with in depth readings of the works of many key British architects artists and critics from Ruskin and William Morris to Alison and Peter Smithson Eduardo Paolozzi Richard Rogers and Caruso St John.
