Mexico's Cinema A Century Of Film And Filmmakers:

Mexico's Cinema Joanne Hershfield, David R. Maciel, 1999-11-01 In recent years Mexican films have received high acclaim and impressive box office returns. Moreover, Mexico has the most advanced movie industry in the Spanish speaking world and its impact on Mexican culture and society cannot be overstated. Mexico's Cinema A Century of Film and Filmmakers is a collection of fourteen essays that encompass the first 100 years of the cinema of Mexico. Included are original contributions written specifically for this title plus a few classic pieces in the field of Mexican cinema studies never before available in English. These essays explore a variety of themes including race and ethnicity, gender issues, personalities, and the historical development of a national cinematic style. Each of the book's three sections: The Silent Cinema, The Golden Age, and The Contemporary Era, is preceded by a short introduction to the period and a presentation of the major themes addressed in the section. This insightful anthology is the first published study that includes pieces by Mexican and North American scholars, including a piece by the internationally acclaimed essayist Carlos Monsivais. Contributors include other acclaimed scholars and critics as well as young scholars who are currently making their mark in the area of film studies of Mexico. These authors represent various fields: community studies, film studies, cultural history, ethnic studies, and gender studies, making this volume an interdisciplinary resource important for courses in Latin America and Third World cinema, Mexican history and culture, and Chicana/o and ethnic studies.

The Lost Cinema of Mexico Olivia Cosentino, Brian Price, 2022-02-08 This volume challenges the dismissal of Mexican filmmaking during the 1960s through 1980s, an era long considered a low budget departure from the nation's earlier Golden Age, examining the critical implications of discovering uncovering and recovering forgotten or ignored films Mexico on Film Armida De La Garza Author, 2006-06-20 Given its features as a modern mass medium and thus closely related to the nation cinema has rightly been regarded as a privileged site for putting forward contesting representations of national identity or in short as a main area in which narratives of national identity are negotiated What do films such as Amores Perros or Traffic say about Mexican identity In what way could Bread and Roses or The Crime of Padre Amaro be part of its transformation This book looks at representations of e Mexicanitye in Mexican cinema and also in Hollywood throughout the 20th century and beyond arguing that the international context plays at least as important a role as ethnicity religion and language in the construction of images of the national self although it is seldom taken into account in theories of national identity The Mexican film may reveal much about Mexican society e g Traffic and the prevalence of drug trafficking Bread and Roses and the problems of migration Amores Perros in relation to metaphors of the nation as an extended family The Crime of Father Amaro in discussing the changing position of the Catholic Church and Herod s Law a scathing critique of the political system that dominated Mexico for the best part of the 20th century Throughout the book emphasizes the contingent nature of hegemonic representations and our ongoing need to tell and to listen to or indeed view stories that weave together a variety of strands to convincingly tell us who we are Encyclopedia of Modern Mexico David W. Dent, 2002-06-11 From the Acteal Massacre to Ernesto Zedillo Ponce de Le n this exciting reference created for a high school audience explores the rich culture the depth of achievement and the creative energy of Mexico and its people A History of Boxing in Mexico Stephen D. Allen, 2017-09-15 This book reveals how boxing and boxers became sources of national pride and sparked debates on what it meant to be Mexican masculine and modern Revolution and Rebellion in Mexican Film Niamh Thornton, 2013-08-15 Revolution and Rebellion in Mexican Film examines Mexican films of political conflict from the early studio Revolutionary films of the 1930 50s up to the campaigning Zapatista films of the 2000s Mapping this evolution out for the first time the author takes three key events under consideration the Mexican Revolution 1910 1920 the student movement and massacre in 1968 and finally the more recent Zapatista Rebellion 1994 present Analyzing films such as Vamamos con Pancho Villa 1936 El Grito 1968 and Corazon del Tiempo 2008 the author uses the term political conflict to refer to those violent disturbances dramatic periods of confrontation injury and death which characterize particular historical events involving state and non state actors that may have a finite duration but have a long lasting legacy on the nation These conflicts have been an important component of Mexican film since its inception and include studio productions documentaries and independent films Mexican National Cinema Andrea Noble, 2005 Mexican National Cinema provides a thorough and detailed account of the vital and complex relationship between cinema and national identity in Mexico From Amores Perros and Y Tu Mama Tambien this books delves into the development of Mexican cinema from the intense cultural nationalism of the Mexican Revolution through the Golden Age of the 1930s and 1940s and the nuevo cine of the 1960s to the renaissance in Mexican cinema in the 1990s Individual chapters discuss the relationship with Hollywood cinema the stars of the Golden Age the role of foreign authors in the founding of Mexican cinema tensions in the industry in the 1960s national and international reception of contemporary film and film makers Examining the portrayal of Mexican nationhood through critical analysis of film genres including revolutionary films machismo and mexicanidad the prostitute and the work of female authors Mexican National Cinema is an excellent addition to all media film and cultural studies students Jenkins of Mexico Andrew Paxman,2017 William O Jenkins rose from humble origins in Tennessee to build a business empire in Mexico a country energized by industrialization and revolutionary change In Jenkins of Mexico Andrew Paxman presents the first biography of this larger than life personality Mex-Ciné Frederick Luis Aldama,2013-04-25 A multidisciplinary investigation of contemporary Mexican cinema Seen and Heard in Mexico Elena Jackson Albarran,2014-01-01 During the first two decades following the Mexican Revolution children in the country gained unprecedented consideration as viable cultural critics social actors and subjects of reform Not only did they become central to the reform agenda of the revolutionary nationalist government they were also the beneficiaries of the largest percentage of the national budget While most historical accounts of postrevolutionary Mexico omit discussion of how children themselves experienced and perceived the sudden onslaught of resources and attention Elena Jackson Albarran in Seen and Heard in Mexico places children's voices at the center of her analysis Albarran draws on archived records of children's experiences in the form of letters stories scripts drawings interviews presentations and homework assignments to explore how Mexican childhood despite the hopeful visions of revolutionary ideologues was not a uniform experience set against the monolithic backdrop of cultural nationalism but rather was varied and uneven Moving children from the aesthetic to the political realm Albarran situates them in their rightful place at the center of Mexico's revolutionary narrative by examining the avenues through which children contributed to ideas about citizenship and nation Mexico Don M. Coerver,Suzanne B. Literary Canon Sarah E. L. Bowskill, 2017-12-02 The post revolutionary Mexican literary canon was formed by cultural and political elites who sought to identify and reward those novels which would best represent the new nation Reviewers found what they were looking for in Gregorio Lopez y Fuentes's El indio 1935 for example but not in Consuelo Delgado's Yo tambien Adelita 1936 This groundbreaking study provides a fresh perspective on canon formation by uncovering the circumstances and readings which produced a male dominated Mexican literary canon Gringolandia Stephen D. Morris, 2005-02-10 Mexico's views of the United States have been characterized as stridently anti American but recent policy changes in Mexico culminating with the North American Free Trade Agreement NAFTA mark a fundamental transformation in the relationship This thoughtful and original work answers questions about the impact of these policy shifts on Mexican nationalism and perceptions of the United States Have popular and elite views changed Has the government's anti American rhetoric become anachronistic What has been the effect on Mexican national identity As the only developing country to have entered into a free trade agreement with a developed country Mexico offers a unique and invaluable case study of the impact of globalization on a nation and its national identity Exploring Mexico's experience also allows us to consider how other countries perceive the United States especially in the post 9 11 climate Analyzing the diversity of Mexican views of the United States Gringolandia contributes a rich and nuanced dimension to our understanding of contemporary Mexico and Mexicans feelings about the vital cross border relationship A2 Film Studies Sarah Casey Benyahia, Freddie Gaffney, John White, 2010-12-14 A2 Film Studies The Essential Introduction gives students the confidence to tackle every part of the WJEC A2 Level Film Studies course The authors who have wide ranging experience as teachers examiners and authors introduce students step by step to the skills involved in the study of film The second edition has been re designed and re written to follow the new WJEC A2 syllabus for 2009 teaching onwards and is supported by a companion website at www.alevelfilmstudies.co.uk offering further advice and activities There is a chapter for each exam topic including The small scale research project The creative project Aspects of a national cinema Bollywood Iranian Japanese and Mexican International Film Styles German and or Soviet Surrealism Neo Realism and New Waves Specialist studies Urban Stories and Empowering Women Spectatorship topics Early cinema before 1917 Documentary Experimental and expanded film video and Popular film and emotional responses The single film critical study every film covered Specifically designed to be user friendly the second edition of A2 Film Studies The Essential Introduction has a new text design to make the book easy to follow includes more than sixty colour images and is packed with features such as case studies relevant to the 2009 specification activities on films like All About My Mother 10 Vertigo and City of God key terms example exam questions suggestions for further reading and website resources Matched to the current WJEC specification A2 Film Studies The Essential Introduction covers everything students need to study as part of the course Emilio Fernández Dolores Tierney, 2019-01-04 Emilio Fernández Pictures in the Margins is the first book length English language account of Emilio Fernández 1904 1986 the most successful director of classical Mexican Cinema famed with creating films that embody a loosely defined Mexican school of filmmaking. However, rather than offer an auteurist study, this book interrogates the construction of Fernández as both a national and nationalist auteur, including racial and gender aspects, e.g. as macho mexicano and indio. It also challenges auteurist readings of the films themselves in order to make new arguments about the significance of Fernández and his work. The aim of this book is to question Mexico's fetishisation of its own position on the peripheries of the global cultural economy and the similar fetishisation of Fernández's marginalisation as a mixed race, part white and part indigenous director. This book argues that, as pictures in the margins of classical Mexican cinema, and specifically Fernández's films, are not transparent reflections of dominant post-Revolutionary Mexican culture, but annotations and reinscriptions of the particularities of Mexican society in the post-Revolutionary era.

Alejandro González Iñárritu Celestino Deleyto, Maria del Mar Azcona, 2010-10-01. This in-depth study of Mexican film director Alejandro González Iñárritu explores his role in moving Mexican filmmaking from a traditional nationalist agenda towards a more global focus. Working in the United States and in Mexico, Iñárritu crosses national borders while his movies break the barriers of distribution, production, narration, and style. His features also experiment with transnational identity as characters emigrate and settings change. In studying the international scope of Iñárritu's influential films Amores Perros, 21 Grams, and Babel, Celestino Deleyto and María del Mar Azcona trace common themes such as human suffering and redemption, chance and accidental encounters. The authors also analyze the director's powerful visual style and his consistent use of multiple characters and a fragmented narrative structure. The book concludes with a new interview with Iñárritu that touches on the themes and subject matter of his chief works. The SAGE International Encyclopedia of Mass Media and Society Debra L. Merskin, 2019-11-12. The SAGE International Encyclopedia of Mass Media and Society discusses media around the world in their varied forms: newspapers, magazines, radio, television, film, books, music, websites, social media, mobile media, and describes the role of each in both mirroring and shaping society. This encyclopedia provides a thorough overview of media within social and cultural contexts, exploring the development of the mediated communication industry, mediated communication regulations, and societal interactions and effects. This reference work will look at issues such as free expression and government regulation of media, how people choose what media to watch, listen to, and read, and how the influence of those who control media organizations may be changing as new media empower previously unheard voices. The role of media in society will be explored from international, multidisciplinary perspectives via approximately 700 articles drawing on research from communication and media studies, sociology, anthropology, social psychology, politics, and business.

Fragments of a Golden Age Gilbert M. Joseph, Anne Rubenstein, Eric Zolov, 2001-06-29. The first cultural history of post-1940s Mexico to relate issues of representation and meaning to questions of power, it includes essays on popular music, unions, TV, tourism, cinema, wrestling, and illustrated magazines.

Dolores del Río Linda B. Hall, 2013-01-09. Dolores del Río's enormously successful career in Hollywood in Mexico and internationally illuminates issues of race ethnicity and gender through the lenses of beauty and celebrity She and her husband left Mexico in 1925 as both their well to do families suffered from the economic downturn that followed the Mexican Revolution Far from being stigmatized as a woman of color she was acknowledged as the epitome of beauty in the Hollywood of the 1920s and early 1930s While she insisted upon her ethnicity she was nevertheless coded white by the film industry and its fans and she appeared for more than a decade as a romantic lead opposite white actors Returning to Mexico in the early 1940s she brought enthusiasm and prestige to the Golden Age of Mexican cinema becoming one of the great divas of Mexican film With struggle and perseverance she overcame the influence of men in both countries who hoped to dominate her ultimately controlling her own life professionally and personally
