would get under the covers he would shake like a leaf and slowly pull the covers over his head Michael's bedroom didn't have a door which scared the living daylight out of him One stormy night when Michael was lying in bed trying to sleep he saw a black cat walk across his window just as the lightning lit up the sky Michael would jump out of bed and run down the hall to his parent's room to sleep in their bed until morning Michael's parents would tell him to stop watching Dark Shadows and maybe his fear of sleeping in his bed alone would diminish Michael said I wouldn't be so scared if my brother and sister would stop teasing me Now and then I would pull the covers slowly down below my eyes just enough to turn my head and see my brother walk across my doorway dressed in a cape and tell me he was coming to get me soon I would just pull the covers over my head and shake like a leaf and pray for daylight The next night as Michael was lying in bed the caped figure went passed his bedroom doorway and the figure said Soon very soon you will join the dead Michael said That's it and jumped out of bed in terror and ran down the hall yelling for his parents Michael burst into his parents bedroom and dove into the covers shaking like a leaf Michael's father said What's the matter Michael Michael replied He's back and this time he said I would be joining the dead soon

Please note This is a companion version not the original book Sample Book Insights 1 The closer we get to the limits to growth the more our current trajectory points toward a difficult future and the less people in the industrial world seem to be able to imagine any alternative to driving the existing order of things onward 2 The hard fact that we are heading towards a considerably worse future than the present by almost any imaginable definition is hard to argue against The hope that tomorrow will be better than today is ingrained in the collective imagination of the modern world 3 The term dark age is used to describe the future that we are heading towards It is a period of time where there are no written records and the thread of collective memory and cultural continuity snaps 4 The more a civilization declines the more it resembles every other civilization in decline The reversion to the mean is a common pattern in the twilight and aftermath of civilizations Modern industrial society especially here in North America is showing all the symptoms of a civilization on its way toward history's compost bin
