Permanence and Change Kenneth Burke, 1984 Permanence and Change was written and first published in the depths of the Great Depression Attitudes Toward History followed it two years later These were revolutionary texts in the theory of communication and as classics they retain their surcharge of energy Permanence and Change treats human communication in terms of ideal cooperation whereas Attitudes Towards History characterizes tactics and patterns of conflict typical of actual human associations It is in Permanence and Change that Burke establishes in path breaking fashion that form permeates society just as it does poetry and the arts Hence his master idea that forms of art are not exclusively aesthetic the cycles of a storm the gradations of a sunrise the stages of an epidemic the undoing of Prince Hamlet are all instances of progressive form This new Edition of Permanence and Change reprints Hugh Dalziel Duncan s long sociological introduction and includes a substantial new afterward in which Burke reexamines his early ideas in light of subsequent developments in his own thinking and in social theory Islamic Culture in Crisis Hichem Djait,2017-09-08

Islamic Culture in Crisis examines efforts by intellectuals and leaders in the Islamic world to adapt to what Hichem Djait calls the incredible novelty of modernity that has come to Europe during the past 150 years The chapters in the work are grouped into three sections and were written by the author over a twenty year period Djait describes the different meanings of modernity the crisis of Islamic culture in its encounter with modernity similarities and differences between Arabs and Muslims and other cultures the politics of the Arabs and the force of democracy in the Islamic world In the sphere of politics the Arabs have been excluded from history for a very long time Instead Turks Mongols Berbers Persians and Caucasians have led the destinies of the Islamic world a domain that had become politically fragmented But history has overlooked the concrete developments of that time although they were full of consequences for the lives of the people Paradoxically what remains are the spiritual trans historic elements religion culture and science Contrasting the achievements of other civilizations both past and present Djait demonstrates eloquently that Arabs and Muslims will not be able to connect with the modern world unless they are able to be inspired by a supreme ambition to further the causes of high culture in knowledge science art literature and other spheres
