Radical Political Economy A Critique:

Radical Political Economy R. Andrew Sayer, 1995-08-29 This is an accessible trenchant classic cutting edge book of wide interest in the social sciences It features the first post Cold War reformulation of radical political economy from Adam Smith to Marx to Hayek

Radical Political Economy Andrew Sayer, 1995-09-06 With the rise of the New Right the demise of state socialism and the development of concerns over the nature of modernity the reception of Marxist and radical theories of capitalist society has become to say the least skeptical In this book Andrew Sayer rethinks and reformulates radical political economy The author argues that Marxist theories of capitalism must learn both from the problems of socialism and more controversially from liberalism In a major critique of Marxist and post Marxist political economy he argues that one of its central problems may be traced to its treatment of the apparently innocuous concept of division of labor This has led he shows to a confusion of the effects of markets and property relations In consequence explanations of uneven development and of the distribution of power in advanced economies are flawed The author illustrates the argument by reference to the study of uneven spatial development He concludes by outlining the constructive potential for a dialogue between radical political economy and liberal thought and between critical social science and normative political philosophy Written in the author's characteristically direct and accessible style this book will be widely read by students of contemporary capitalism and political economy in many disciplines

The Political Economy of Global Capitalism and Crisis Bill Dunn, 2014-03-21 The book provides a theoretically and historically informed analysis of the global economic crisis It makes original contributions to theories of value of crisis and of the state and uses these to develop a rich empirical study of the changing character of capitalism in the twentieth century and beyond It defends uses and develops Marxist theory while arguing particularly against jumping too quickly from abstract concepts to a concrete understanding of the crisis Instead it uses what Marx described in his notebooks as an obvious analytical ordering to progress from a general analysis of economy and society to a discussion of recent economic transformations and the specifics of the crisis and its aftermath Dunn argues that appropriately reconceived a critical Marxism can incorporate and enrich rather than rejecting insights from other traditions He disputes general characterisations of capitalism to the crisis and theories which see finance and the contemporary financial crises as largely detached from other aspects of the economy and society Providing a thoroughly socialised and historically based account this book will be vital reading for students and scholars of political economy international political economy Marxism sociology geography and development studies light of the positionality of emerging markets within the network of space and power relations that characterises contemporary global finance The book develops a multi disciplinary perspective and combines insights from Marxist political economy post Keynesian economics economic geography and postcolonial and feminist International Political Economy Alami comprehensively reviews the theories histories and geographies of cross border finance management and develops a conceptual framework which allows unpacking the complex entanglement of constraint and opportunities of growing integration and tight discipline that cross border finance represents for emerging markets Extensive fieldwork research provides an in depth comparative critical interrogation of the policies and regulations deployed in Brazil and South Africa This volume will be especially useful to those researching and working in the areas of international political economy contemporary geographies of money and finance and critical development studies It should also prove of interest to policy makers practitioners and activists concerned with the relation between finance and development in emerging markets and beyond
