FROM THE PREFACE The field of medical devices represents one of the most advanced technological areas in the United States In 1991 over 12 million Americans had at least one medical device fixation devices had the highest incidence followed by contact lens use and lens implants and lastly artificial joints The public has come to expect that medical devices will alleviate maladies and or conditions that were not treatable fifty years ago It is hard to believe that the first pacemaker was invented in the 1950s the first artificial heart valve in 1952 and the first artificial hip replacement was performed in 1954 In 1992 the medical device industry exported a total of 6 9 billion while the country imported a total of 3 9 billion representing a 3 0 billion trade surplus Medical devices are among the most regulated products in the world The FDA maintains a constant vigil over medical device manufacturers and importers even medical device definitions are subject to official scrutiny Title 21 of the Code of Federal Regulations publishes these definitions but the definitions are spread over several medical specialty areas and are thus difficult to find This book attempts to bring a measure of order by providing an alphabetical listing of officially defined devices      Registration and Listing ,1983
