Regulation of Passenger Fares and Competition Among the Airlines Paul W. MacAvoy, John W. Snow, 1977

Department of Transportation and Related Agencies Appropriations for Fiscal Year ..., 1983

Deregulating the

Airlines Elizabeth E. Bailey, David R. Graham, Daniel P. Kaplan, 1985 The airline industry has been buffeted by the forces of deregulation since the mid 1970s Many new firms have entered some with different price and operating philosophies and some of these have thrived Other airlines have gone bankrupt Overall the real cost of air travel has declined considerably however the effects have varied dramatically from market to market Exactly how was this massive experiment envisioned and planned How has it worked And how will it work in the long run Deregulating the Airlines narrates and analyzes the decisions taken by the Civil Aeronautics Board during the transition to deregulation and the reasoning behind the Airline Deregulation Act of 1978 It provides many comparisons of the industry before and after deregulation and uses those data to test the various hypotheses that scholars and politicians have advanced about how markets would behave if regulation were removed Its findings provide information on both the demand and the cost side that will be important in molding the long run equilibrium of the industry and it discusses how quickly the industry is moving toward that equilibrium For policymakers and students of regulation in particular this study provides a unique case for contrasting the operation of an industry under close regulatory control and its operation free of such controls It is able to make use of an unusually large volume of data on the costs operations and prices of individual firms to show how markets work and how regulation works The book's in depth analysis of the impact of policy changes in the airline industry is drawn in part from the authors active involvement in implementing the new policies Elizabeth Bailey is Dean of the Graduate School of Industrial Administration at Carnegie Mellon Previously she was a commissioner and vice chairman at the Civil Aeronautics Board Daniel Kaplan is director of the Board's Office of Economic Analysis David R. Graham manager of the Defense Economics Program at the Institute for Defense Analysis was a Board economist Deregulating the Airlines is tenth in the series Regulation of Economic Activity edited by Richard Schmalensee

Policy Studies: Review Annual Bruce B. Zellner, 2019-01-22 Every editor of the Policy Studies Review Annual brings a unique perspective to bear in selecting articles to be included This perspective reflects varying methodological and disciplinary judgments varying judgments on what the field of policy studies or policy analysis is and where it should be going and varying judgments regarding the quality of articles which are or claim to be in the field Because it is the objective to assemble a set of essays which are both interesting and topical there will be varying perspectives on these matters as well The volume clearly reflects the editors' perspectives They are explicit about these judgments and perspectives and then let the content of the volume speak for itself First we are both economists As a result the general topics selected and the articles chosen under each topic tend to emphasize economics more than the other disciplines involved in the field of policy studies sociology psychology political science law and so on This emphasis is clearly seen by comparing the contents of volume I edited by Stuart Nagel a political scientist and volume II edited by Howard Freeman a sociologist with that of this volume Second the editors have a particular view of what policy studies or policy analysis is That view has several aspects In the first place they feel that the field of policy studies or policy analysis must define itself and this definition will develop as researchers do just what the title of the field says study or analyze policies A corollary of this view is that we place a low weight on papers which discuss the policy process or reforms in policy making relative to papers which analyze a policy a policy proposal or a problem which leads to calls for policy action
