

REHABILITATION AND DISABILITY

Psychosocial Case Studies

E. DAVIS MARTIN, JR.
GERALD L. GANDY

"The purpose of this book is to provide a case studies text with a focus on disability that can be employed in a variety of disciplines involved with therapeutic counseling such as rehabilitation counseling, mental health counseling, clinical social work, and clinical and counseling psychology. The text has been written and designed so that multiple perspectives of each case may be developed. . . . A major feature of this book is the manner in which the case study occurred is presented. The social evaluation for each case provides an overview and background for the medical, psychological, vocational, educational, and economic assessment. The discussion questions, which follow each case, are presented to facilitate thinking and exploration either in a group situation or on an individual basis."
