An American Dream Ray Banister,2020-01-29 Beginning quite mysteriously in September 1845 healthy green leaves on potato plants suddenly turned black curled and then rotted Then like an uncontrollable wildfire in a wind swept forest winds from southern England carried that mysterious blight to leaves of healthy potato plants around the Dublin countryside As fungal spores they multiplied cool breezes quickly spread that same unchecked blight to surrounding plants throughout all the potato fields of Ireland This blight quickly became an imperiling devastation casting Ireland into a horrifying tribulation One third of Ireland s population had become solely dependent on the potato to sustain their livelihood the Irish potato famine would reduce the already desolate Irish people to penniless dehumanized paupers and homeless outcast the infamous Irish potato famine had begun Caught up in the famine s inescapable grasp was the Andrew and Mattie O Malley family innocent Catholic potato farmers with three children two teen age sons and a six year old daughter named Rose Their survival and existence now at the mercy of English and Anglo Irish land owners that were loyal members of The Anglican Church of England The British Government defended the vindictive landowners by failing to initiate any reactionary measures to relieve the devastating problems of the Irish people The effects of not taking measures to address or reconcile those issues created a host of political social and economic factors that forever etched irreconcilable resentment and distrust on the English and Irish demographic landscape But far worse was the direct devastation subjected on the helpless Irish people Over the next six years more than a million Irish men women and children would die from mass starvation or from infectious diseases resulting from that mysterious blight and the lack of government intervention Another million would flee Ireland on questionable sea worthy disease infested sailing ships dubbed famine ships or coffin ships to America This is a story of unrivaled courage shown by an eight year old Irish girl orphaned by the infamous Irish potato famine in the 1840 s

She came to America alone on a disease infested famine ship during the time of legalized slavery and uncontested bigotry and dedicated her life s work to eradicate both
