these ongoing debates Rowan's Rule Rupert Shortt,2009-02-24 A fascinating fair minded depiction of Archbishop Rowan Williams Rowan Williams is a complex and controversial figure Widely revered for his personal qualities he is also an intellectual giant who towers over almost all his predecessors as Archbishop of Canterbury Among other achievements he has trounced the atheist Richard Dawkins and published over twenty well regarded books including several volumes of poetry and a major study of Dostoevsky Yet he is also one of the most reviled church leaders in modern history Long before facing calls to step down after his lecture on sharia law in early 2008 he had been accused of heresy on account of his pro gay views He has disappointed many of his own supporters as well So how has high office changed Rowan Williams Has he been bullied and manipulated Or is he perhaps playing a long game obliged to rate church unity above the pursuit of his own vision at a time when the Anglican Communion has never looked more unstable Rupert Shortt already the author of an acclaimed introduction to the Archbishop's thought offers answers to these and other questions in this authoritative biography He explores how the events of the Archbishop's remarkable life have shaped his beliefs and practices today Of particular interest is the riveting account of Williams's experience near the World Trade Center towers on the morning of September 11 201 Written with Williams's cooperation Rowan's Rule not only elucidates his ideas but gives a compelling portrait of a private and in some ways surprisingly vulnerable man The Living Church ,2003-07 Essays in Ecumenical Theology I Ivana Noble,2018-11-26 In the first volume of Essays in Ecumenical Theology Ivana Noble depicts differences between what she calls a sectarian outlook and one which engages in the search for common roots dialogical relationships and shared mission in a world that has largely become post Christian but often also post secular Drawing on both Western and Orthodox scholarship and expressing her own positions Noble sketches what ecumenical theology is how it is linked to spirituality the methods it uses how it developed during the twentieth century and the challenges it faces Specific studies deal with controversial interpretations of Jan Hus Catholic Modernism the problematic heritage of the totalitarian regimes and responses to the current humanitarian crisis Tokens of Trust Rowan Williams,2010-09-01 What does it mean to believe in God Can God possibly be almighty in the midst of so much evil and disaster How am I to understand the meaning of Jesus Christ's ministry and resurrection To what purpose is the church called And what does it really mean to follow Christ in today's broken world Tying together the answers to all of these questions and addressing perplexities such as the possibility of miracles and how to read the Bible Rowan Williams demonstrates that each of the basic tenets of Christian faith flows from one fundamental belief that God is completely worthy of our trust With vast knowledge of Christian history and theology and characteristically elegant prose Rowan Williams is a superb and compassionate guide through the richness and depth of Christian faith Christianity in Britain Since 1914 David Goodhew,Mark Smith,2024-11-18 This book charts the profound changes in British Christianity over the last century It does so through the medium of diverse local case studies based on high quality new research The ethnic diversification of British churches in the last fifty years is a key theme of the Newman and Justification T. L. Holtzen,2024 Newman and Justification examines John Henry Newman s via media doctrine of the justifying presence in his Lectures on Justification T L Holtzen contends that Newman put forth his via media doctrine of the justifying presence by employing a trinitarian grammar of divine inhabitation in which the Holy Spirit is the formal cause of justification as a solution to the Reformation debate over justification Newman sets his via media of justification between the extremes of justification by mere imputation in popular Protestantism and that of justification by works righteousness in English Arminianism and Romanism The word justification means both being declared and being made righteous because the eternal Word is spoken into the soul by the Holy Spirit in justification Newman identifies this with the gift of righteousness Romans 5 17 and calls it the doctrine of the justifying presence The justifying presence is an imparted righteousness in distinction from both the Protestant notion of imputed and Roman Catholic idea of inherent righteousness The justifying presence comes through the sacraments creates faith in the human soul and begins a renewal in good works all of which in different ways justify The divine inhabitation of the Holy Spirit in the soul is the formal cause of justification by causing a duplex iustitia of both Christ s imputed righteousness and by beginning an actual righteousness in renewal Newman s via media doctrine of the justifying presence has great ecumenical promise because it shows how the trinitarian grammar of justification necessarily causes renewal through divine inhabitation

Trust Geoffrey A. Hosking,2014 Today there is much talk of a crisis of trust a crisis which is almost certainly genuine but usually misunderstood Trust A History offers a new perspective on the ways in which trust and distrust have functioned in past society providing an empirical and historical basis against which the present crisis can be examined and suggesting ways in which the concept of trust can be used as a tool to understand our own and other societies Geoffrey Hosking argues that social trust is mediated through symbolic systems such as religion and money and the institutions associated with them churches and banks Historically these institutions have nourished trust but the resulting trust networks have tended to create quite tough boundaries around themselves across which distrust is projected against outsiders Hosking also shows how nation states have been particularly good at absorbing symbolic systems and generating trust among large numbers of people while also erecting rigid boundaries around themselves despite an increasingly global economy He asserts that in the modern world it has become common to entrust major resources to institutions we know little about and suggests that we need to learn from historical experience and temper this with more traditional forms of trust or become an ever more distrustful society with potentially very destabilising consequences

Iris Murdoch and the Western Theological Imagination Miles Leeson,Frances White,2025-07-26 Scholarly interest in theological aspects of Murdoch's fiction and philosophy took off slowly. It was thirty years after her writing debut that the first work taking detailed notice of the theological language deployed by this overtly atheist author appeared and it was a further decade before theologians began to engage with Murdoch's work together. But it was not until the twenty-first century that this aspect of Murdoch's thought and imagination began to receive sustained attention. This collection seeks to build on this foundation begun forty years ago and to expand the work in this area of Murdoch studies which has lately been gathering momentum. This project consolidates earlier discussion of the vital part theology plays in Murdoch's thought and then takes the debate in new directions. Contributors include a wide range of current Murdoch scholars from diverse disciplines who develop debate about this subject in a variety of innovative and fruitful ways to inspire future works in this area of Murdoch studies.

Explorations in Spirituality Philip Sheldrake, 2010. A distinctive exposition of the main elements of the study of Christian spirituality that also underlines the essentially socially transformative nature of the Christian spiritual tradition.

Newman and the Alexandrian Fathers Benjamin J. King, 2009-05-07. John Henry later Cardinal Newman is generally known to have been devoted to reading the Church Fathers. In this volume Benjamin King draws on archive as well as published material to explore how Newman interpreted specific Fathers at different periods of his life. King draws connections between the Alexandrian Fathers Newman was reading and the development of his thought. This analysis shows that it was events in Newman's life that changed his interpretation of the Fathers, not the interpretation of the Fathers that caused Newman to change his life. King argues that Newman tailored his reading, trying on the ideas of different Fathers to fit his own needs. An innovative comparison of Newman's two translations of Athanasius of Alexandria from 1842-44 and 1881 demonstrates that by 1881 the Cardinal was swayed by the theology favored by Pope Leo XIII. King reveals that although Newman was a controversial figure in his own day, eventually his view of the Fathers and their doctrines came to be accepted by many scholars. This new exploration of his work, however, shows that the Cardinal's interpretation of the Fathers should still be controversial today.
