open and with few nights under roof had enlarged Harry Kenton's frame and had colored his face a deep red. His great ancestor Henry Ware had been very fair and Harry like him became scarlet of cheek under the beat of wind and rain. Had anyone with a discerning eye been there to see he would have called this youth one of the finest types of the South that rode forth so boldly to war. He sat his saddle with the ease and grace that come only of long practice and he controlled his horse with the slightest touch of the rein. The open frank face showed hate of nobody although the soul behind it was devoted without any reserve to the cause for which he fought.
