David Pearson, American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, 1994      Setting Standards and Educating Teachers Mary E. Diez, Virginia Richardson, P. David Pearson, 1994      Transforming Teacher Education Patricia Simpson, Martha Wallace, 2000 Offers a vision for what teacher education could be It is intended as a guide for Minnesota post secondary institutions as they consider the implications of national and state K 12 reform recommendations for teacher education TE programs Chapters transforming TE context for change standards for the education of teachers of math and science recommendations for transforming the education of teachers of math and science transforming policy to practices references national standards for math and science teaching and TE and for curriculum instruction and assessment in math and science and the history of transforming TE Math and science bibliographies      Transforming Undergraduate Education in Science, Mathematics, Engineering, and Technology Committee on Undergraduate Science Education, Board on Science Education, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, National Research Council, 1999-04-08 Today s undergraduate students future leaders policymakers teachers and citizens as well as scientists and engineers will need to make important decisions based on their understanding of scientific and technological concepts However many undergraduates in the United States do not study science mathematics engineering or technology SME T for more than one year if at all Additionally many of the SME T courses that students take are focused on one discipline and often do not give students an understanding about how disciplines are interconnected or relevant to students lives and society To address these issues the National Research Council convened a series of symposia and forums of representatives from SME T educational and industrial communities Those discussions contributed to this book which provides six vision statements and recommendations for how to improve SME T education for all undergraduates The book addresses pre college preparation for students in SME T and the joint roles and responsibilities of faculty and administrators in arts and sciences and in schools of education to better educate teachers of K 12 mathematics science and technology It suggests how colleges can improve and evaluate lower division undergraduate courses for all students strengthen institutional infrastructures to encourage quality teaching and better prepare graduate students who will become future SME T faculty      Designing Performance Assessment Systems for Urban Teacher Preparation Francine P. Peterman, 2005-05-06 Designing Performance Assessment Systems for Urban Teacher Preparation presents an argument for and invites critical examination of teacher preparation and assessment practices in light of both the complexity and demands of urban settings and the theories of learning and learning to teach that guide teacher education practices This dynamic approach distinguishes the authors stance on urban teacher assessment as one that can help address social justice issues related to gender race socioeconomic class and other differences and at the same time promote the professional development of all educators engaged in the process of learning to teach The contextually bound sociocultural stance that informs this book promises greater teacher and student achievement Culminating six years of vital dialogue and focused local activity among teachers and teacher educators from institutions in the Urban Network to Improve Teacher Education Designing Performance Assessment Systems for Urban Teacher Preparation presents the historical context that was examined for this work a theoretical framework to undergrad teacher preparation assessment and design principles to guide the development of assessment systems four case studies of participants struggles and successes in designing and implementing these systems and a discussion of the importance of context and current trends in assessment practices in urban teaching This volume is particularly relevant for university and school based teacher educators who help prepare teachers to work in urban schools and for personnel in state departments of education and other agencies who are responsible for certification and beginning teacher support While the focus is on preparing teachers for urban settings the theoretical and practical foundations and the case studies have broad implications and provide useful insights for anyone involved in developing and using performance assessment systems teacher educators university and school administrators classroom teachers and educational researchers Shaping the Future ,1998 Shaping the Future: Perspectives on undergraduate education in science, mathematics, engineering, and technology ,1996 The ERIC Review ,1991 Provides information on programs research publications and services of ERIC as well as critical and current education information
