about what kind of narrative of religious change we should alternatively tell Seeking clarity Benjamin Schewel organizes and evaluates the prevalent narratives of religious history that scholars have deployed over the past century and are advancing today He argues that contemporary scholarly discourse on religion can be categorized according to seven central narratives subtraction renewal transsecular postnaturalist construct perennial and developmental Examining the basic logic insights and limitations of each of these narratives Schewel ranges from Martin Heidegger to Muhammad Iqbal from Daniel Dennett to Charles Taylor to offer an incisive broad and original perspective on religion in the modern world The book should be a widely read guide to the ideas that structure many of the debates scholars are having today about the meaning of postsecularism and future of religion Geoffrey Cameron Review of Faith and International Affairs What is the future of religion and how should we narrate its past For all readers interested in these questions this balanced and concise book is a must read Hans Joas Humboldt University Berlin and University of Chicago Chinese Religions Gary Seaman,1998

Saving Sinners, even Moslems Jerzy Zdanowski,2018-10-09 This book investigates the Mission of the Reformed Church in America sent to Arabia in 1889 to preach the Gospel and which operated in the Persian Gulf until 1973 It also explores the various cultural encounters between missionaries and Muslims and discusses conversion and the place of Islam in the Protestant eschatology It maintains that John G Lansing from the New Brunswick Theological Seminary New Jersey who founded the Arabian Mission deliberately dedicated the Mission to direct Muslim evangelism In terms of premillennialism Lansing moved Islam into the very centre of the theological discourse and presented the evangelization of

Muslims as critical for Christ's Second Coming This made the Arabian Mission unique among the American Protestant Missions and placed the Church and missionaries between religious pluralism and the obligations of the Great Commission
