The series which is produced by the State Department's Office of the Historian began in 1861 and now comprises more than 350 individual volumes. The volumes published over the last two decades increasingly contain declassified records from all the foreign affairs agencies. Information Industry Directory, 2009 Comprehensive directory of databases as well as services involved in the production and distribution of information in electronic form. There is a detailed subject index and function service classification as well as name keyword and geographical location indexes. Review, Analysis, and Outlook World Bank, 2006-01-01 International private capital flows to developing countries reached a record net level of 491 billion in 2005. This surge in private capital flows offers national and international policy makers a major opportunity to bolster development efforts if they can successfully meet three challenges. The first is to ensure that more countries, especially poorer ones, enhance their access to developmentally beneficial international capital through improvements in their macroeconomic performance, investment climate, and use of aid. The second is to avoid sudden capital flow reversals by redressing global imbalances through policies that recognize the growing interdependencies between developed and developing countries' financial and exchange rate relations in the determination of global financial liquidity and asset price movements. And the third is to ensure that development finance, both official and private, is managed judiciously to meet the development goals of recipient countries while promoting greater engagement with global financial markets. These are the themes and concerns of this year's edition of Global Development Finance. Vol I Analysis and Statistical Appendix reviews recent trends in financial flows to developing countries. Vol II Summary and Country Tables includes comprehensive data for 138 countries as well as summary data for regions and income groups. The Great Food Robbery Genetic Resources Action International, 2012-05-17 Arguing that corporations are mainly responsible for the expansion of the damaging industrial food system, this discussion focuses on these organizations and the ways they organize and control food production and distribution. Demonstrating how the corporate food system destroys those systems based on local markets, local cultures, and biodiversity, this account highlights how it puts the profits of the few before the needs of people and leads to massive food safety incidents, environmental destruction, labor exploitation, and the decimation of rural communities. Informative and direct, this book aims to inspire individuals to actively take the food system back from corporations and put it in the hands of people. South America, Central America and the Caribbean 2007 Europa Publications, 2006-09-14 An incomparable single source of reference on a huge and important region.
