The Sidney Family Romance Gary Fredric Waller, 1993 William Herbert 1580-1630 third earl of Pembroke and Lady Mary Wroth 1587-1653 were first cousins the nephew and niece of Sir Philip Sidney whose family was one of remarkable literary and political importance Herbert was a poet a voluminous letter writer and one of the Jacobean court's richest and most powerful courtiers and politicians Wroth was arguably the most important woman writer of the period she authored the first Petrarchan poetic sequence the first prose romance and one of the first plays in English by a woman In addition to their connections as cousins and as writers they were lovers and the parents of two illegitimate children The Sidney Family Romance is both a cultural biography and a symptomatic reading of the sexual and textual relationships of Herbert and Wroth Waller's analysis of their letters and literary works relies on a variety of critical apparatuses social history current political and social theories of the Jacobean period and most notably feminist psychoanalytic theory In both his biographical information and interpretive comments Waller focuses on subject construction and gender construction of the early modern period to find that Herbert's poems proceed from his life at court to engage in the gender politics of Petrarchan poetry while Wroth's work proceeds from her disempowered position to project a desire for an autonomy which would lead to mutuality between the sexes Waller tries to find ways of analyzing the inner lives of his subjects in the absence of direct evidence and with a paucity of documentation He examines historical documents including the writings of the two cousins and recent historical research along with contemporary studies of family interactions and gender construction and detailed case histories drawn from nearly a century of clinical and therapeutic studies The author concludes with a discussion of the crisis of gender in the seventeenth century as a contemporary crisis as well Family history has long been central to Renaissance studies The Sidney Family Romance proceeds far beyond any previous works in bringing to bear the very rich and complicated network of ideas observations and literary images in the works of Herbert and Wroth

Maxine Hong Kingston's Broken Book of Life Maureen Sabine,2004-02-29 The numerous studies of Maxine Hong Kingston s touchstone work The Woman Warrior fail to take into account the stories in China Men which were largely written together with those in The Woman Warrior but later published separately Although Hong Kingston s decision to separate the male and female narratives enabled readers to see the strength of the resulting feminist point of view in The Woman Warrior the author has steadily maintained that to understand the book fully it was necessary to read its male companion text Maureen Sabine s ambitious study of The Woman Warrior and China Men aims to bring these divided texts back together with a close reading that looks for the textual traces of the father in The Woman Warrior and shows how the daughter narrator tracks down his history in China Men She considers theories of intertextuality that open up the possibility of a dynamic interplay between the two books and suggests that the Hong family women and men may be struggling for dialogue with each other even when they appear textually silent
