Methods in World History Janken Myrdal, Arne Jarrick, Maria Wallenberg Bondesson, 2016-05-02
 Methods in World History is the first international volume that systematically addresses a number of methodological problems specific to the field of world history Prompted by a lack of applicable works the authors advocate a considerable sharpening of the tools used within the field of study Theories constructed on poor foundations run an obvious risk of reinforcing flawed assumptions and of propping up other more ideological constructions The dedicated critical approach outlined in this volume helps to mitigate such risks Each author addresses a particular issue of method for source criticism archaeological evidence or estimates of economies for example discussing the problems giving practical examples and offering solutions and ways of overcoming the difficulties involved The perspectives are varied the criticism focussed and a common theme of coalescence is maintained throughout This unique anthology will be of great use to advanced scholars of world history and to students entering the field for the first time

The Cambridge Global History of Fashion: Volume 2
 Christopher Breward, Beverly Lemire, Giorgio Riello, 2023-08-17
 Volume II surveys the history of fashion from the nineteenth century to the present day Covering the period beginning with mass industry and ending with calls for sustainability this volume challenges the meaning of modernity and modernism from a global perspective and reflects on important scholarship that has changed our understanding of the relationship between fashion and colonialism Empires shifted and new powers rose with fashion marking and contending with this change The volume concludes with a critical view of fashion and globalisation and explores the deep connections between the fashion industry the global economy and the politics of production and wearing in the contemporary world

History Textbooks and the Wars in Asia Gi-Wook Shin, Daniel C. Snider, 2011-02-08 Over the past fifteen years Northeast Asia has witnessed growing intraregional exchanges and interactions especially in the realms of culture and economy Still the region cannot escape from the burden of history This book examines the formation of historical memory in four Northeast Asian societies China Japan South Korea and Taiwan and the United States focusing on the period from the beginning of the Sino Japanese war in 1931 until the formal conclusion of the Pacific War with the San Francisco Peace Treaty of 1951 The contributors analyse the recent efforts of Korean Japanese and Chinese scholars to write a common history of Northeast Asia and question the underlying motivations for their efforts and subsequent achievements In doing so they contend that the greatest obstacle to reconciliation in Northeast Asia lies in the existence of divided and often conflicting historical memories The book argues that a more fruitful approach lies in understanding how historical memory has evolved in each country and been incorporated into respective master narratives Through uncovering the existence of different master narratives it is hoped citizens will develop a more self critical self reflective approach to their own history and that such an introspective effort has the potential to lay the foundation for greater self and mutual understanding and eventual historical reconciliation in the region This book will be essential reading for students and scholars of Asian history Asian education and international relations in East Asia
