(verb) To suggest or mean something without actually saying it. When you use an angry tone of voice, you imply that you are upset.

Say: We know that sometimes a speaker or writer may mean more than her words say directly. When this happens, we say that someone has implied an unspoken or unwritten meaning. Ask: Suppose I said (say in a hinting voice), "That table looks very dirty." Do I mean anything more than that the table is dirty? What did I imply? (Clean the table.) Then say: Sometimes you can tell by the way a question is asked that the person expects a particular answer. The answer is implied by the question. (e.g., "Finish your work now?" "Yes, ma'am.")

Use the transparency for week 4 and the suggestions on page 6 to introduce the words for each day.
