Building the National Parks Linda Flint McClelland, 1998 The Office of Strategic Services the forerunner of the Central Intelligence Agency was founded in 1942 by William Wild Bill Donovan under the direction of President Roosevelt who realized the need to improve intelligence during wartime A rigorous recruitment process enlisted agents from both the armed services and civilians to produce operational groups specializing in different foreign areas including Italy Norway Yugoslavia and China At its peak in 1944 the number of men and women working in the service totaled nearly 13 500 This intriguing story of the origins and development of the American espionage forces covers all of the different departments involved with a particular emphasis on the courageous teams operating in the field The volume is illustrated with many photographs including images from the film director John Ford who led the OSS Photographic Unit and parachuted into Burma in 1943

Future Park Amalie Wright, 2013-09-19 The first public parks were created on urban greenfields Once these designated sites had been used cities looked towards post industrial sites and built parks in places that had suffered from environmental degradation neglect abandonment and conflict With finite stocks of urban post industrial land now also approaching exhaustion more ways of making parks are required to create inclusive accessible and resilient urban places Future Park invites Australian built environment professionals and policymakers to consider the future of parks in our cities Including spectacular images of public spaces throughout the world the book describes the economic social and environmental benefits of urban parks and then outlines the threats and challenges facing cities and communities in an age when more than half the world s population are urban dwellers Future Park introduces the need to embrace new public park thinking to ensure that benefits continue to be realised Future Park illustrates imaginative and resourceful responses to real challenges by highlighting recent proposals and projects These projects coalesce around four broad themes linkages obsolescences co locations and installations responding to contemporary urban paradoxes and ensuring parks continue to play a vital role in the lives of our cities
